GERMAN REVOLUTION CONTINUES TO GROW

EFFORT WILL BE TO REACH FIVE MILLION DOLLARS IN CANVASS

Greater Victoria Objective Will Be Sought Irrespective of Provincial Government Investment; High Rate of Speed Must Be Maintained Until the End

"Greater Victoria must, and I am certain she will, reach her $5,000,000 objective by Saturday night—exclusive of the investment of the Provincial Government," said R. F. Taylor, Island Chairman, at noon to-day, when it was officially announced that yesterday $166,300 was invested in the Victory Loan. This subscription brings the total actually recorded up to $3,417,250, and with the investment of the municipalities, the amount so far raised is something over $4,000,000, the Honor Flag quota of the city. Beside this a number of very large subscriptions are at present being attended to, which will bring the aggregate well over the $4,000,000 mark. The last three days of the campaign, though they will be devoted to going over many districts for the second time, are expected to yield some of the largest daily results of the whole drive. To reach the $5,000,000 mark, unassisted by the Provincial investment the salesmen must, during the rest of the week, sell something more than $200,000 a day. This Sales Chairman Kenneth Ferguson is determined to do, and his force of bond-sellers, by dint of patient labor, is gathering together fighting dollars from all sorts of out-of-the-way corners of the city. The figures for yesterday and for the corresponding day of the drive last year are as follows:

14th. Day—Tuesday—November 12th:
Canvassers .....	$99,500
Banks (incomplete) ..	$7,000
	$ 106,500
Grand total to date .....	$3,417,250
Applications .....	620
Total applications .....	7310
1917.
14th Day—Tuesday, November 27th.
Canvassers .....	$50,450
Banks .....	$5,000
	$ 55,450
Grand total to date .....	$2,628,875
Total applications .....	6657

These figures do not include the investment of the Provincial Government and the municipalities, amounting to over $1,000,000.

Italians Respond Generously.
The Italians living in Greater Victoria are supporting the Victory Loan to the utmost, knowing as they do that the cause of Canada is the cause of all the Allies, and that the continued prosperity of the Dominion depends directly upon the sale of bonds. Many of the Italians are celebrating the coming of the armistice, and the glorious victory of the Italian forces by continuing their support of those principles for which Italy has suffered so much. It is because of the deep-lying sentiment and the business sense of the Italian section of the community, that the loan salesmen have little trouble in selling bonds to them.

Raffle Bonds.

Montenegrins Regain Control of Cetinje; Freed by Serbians

London, Nov. 13.—The liberation of Cetinje, the capital of Montenegro, is announced in a Serbian official report dated Tuesday, issued here to-day. A number of guns and war material were captured. Serbian troops also entered Novisad.

AUSTRIAN ARMY BREAKS UP AND SOLDIERS JOIN MOBS IN SACKING AND BURNING

Trieste, Nov. 12.—Via Rome and London, Nov. 13.—A state of semi-anarchy prevails in all the regions of Austria crossed by the Austro-Hungarian troops returning from the Italian front. The soldiers have abandoned the ranks and have joined the mobs in sacking and setting fire to property. All kinds of excesses are being committed.

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—German-Austria has been proclaimed a part of the German republic by the State Council, says a dispatch from Vienna.

SCHLESIEEN SUNK BY REVOLUTIONISTS

German Training Ship, a Pre-Dreadnought, Sent Down by Revolutionary German Craft

Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—The German training ship Schlesien was torpedoed by revolutionary warships, according to The Weser Zeitung, of Bremen.

The Schlesien, a pre-dreadnought German battleship, of late used as a training ship, was reported early in the week to have fled from Kiel when the sailors' revolt broke out. The vessel arrived at Marstal, a small Danish port on the Baltic, where she took on some supplies. It was reported that two German cruisers were waiting outside the harbor for the Schlesien. The ship was 430 feet long and displaced 13,200 tons. She was armed with four 11-inch guns and smaller weapons and fitted with six torpedo tubes.

CALL IS ISSUED TO THE FARMERS

Dominion Minister of Agriculture Urges Them to Support Loan

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Agriculture, to-day issued an urgent appeal to the farmers of Canada to give their full support to the Victory Loan. The Minister points to the immensity of the work yet to be done and the need for money to purchase foodstuffs to save millions of people in Europe from starvation. The appeal is as follows: "To the farmers of Canada: In the closing days of the Victory Loan campaign I wish to make the strongest possible appeal to the farmers of Canada to come in with all their strength to help those who are working so hard for its success to make a whitening finish. After four years of untold suffering, sacrifice and sorrow, in which the farmers of Canada carried their fair share, the glories of peace are beginning to shine out once more upon a desolated world.

Much Work.
"The victory is won, but an immense work yet remains to be done. To carry out that work money is required. It is needed to feed, clothe and shelter our soldiers and the millions of refugees discharged from service. It is needed particularly to pay for wheat, flour, bacon, butter, cheese and foodstuffs of all kinds. When you buy a bond you help your country, you help yourself and you help others. Despite all that may be done, it is stated upon good authority that millions will die of starvation in Europe within the next twelve months. Your money will help to save some. Buy bonds, save food and do both to the utmost of your ability."

Berne, Nov. 13.—Copies of Budapest newspapers received here contain details of a remarkable ceremony in which Archduke Joseph of Austria and his son, Joseph Francis, took the oath of allegiance to the new Hungarian constitution as simple Hungarian citizens named Hapsburg. The newspapers say it was the first instance in 400 years when such a renunciation was made. All privileges were given up by the Archduke and his son. The newspapers also say that the little principality of Liechtenstein, of 10,000 inhabitants, situated on the Swiss-German frontier, also had a revolution. The Prince of Liechtenstein was forced to leave the country. He was superseded by Dr. Litter, a lawyer, of Innsbruck.

Officials Advising Wilson Not to Attend Peace Conference

Washington, Nov. 13.—Messages from high sources in Europe are reaching President Wilson urging that he personally attend the great peace conference. ### REVOLUTIONARY SAULS REPORTED TO HAVE SEIZED ALL THE SHIPS OF WHAT WAS THE GERMAN NAVY

WILHELM POSES AS GERMAN CITIZEN

In Holland He Does Not Call Himself German War Lord

London, Nov. 13.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the former German Kaiser, is now in Holland, and has been visited by an official representative of The Netherlands Government. His status has not been definitely settled as yet, but it appears that he is posing as a private citizen of Germany instead of the War Lord.

Permitted to Remain.
London, Nov. 13.—Holland will permit Wilhelm Hohenzollern to remain on Dutch soil on the same terms of internment as other high officers of the German army. He has taken the name of Count Wilhelm Hohenzollern, and is expected to buy an estate and remain in Holland, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to The Exchange Telegraph.

The Telegraph, of Amsterdam, says that he was allowed to take only his personal property from his train, the non-personal property which was brought to Holland being confiscated, as is usual in internment cases. Recent dispatches stated that the former Kaiser had taken a carload of archives with him into Holland.

Holland Excited.
London, Nov. 13.—Holland's hesitancy in dealing with Wilhelm Hohenzollern is ascribed to the extremely indefinite state of public opinion in Holland, says the Amsterdam correspondent of The Mail.

He says that German revolutionary forces who are holding the frontier say they were strictly ordered to prevent (Concluded on page 4.)

EUROPE NEEDS BIG FOOD SHIPMENTS

British Controller Looks to Canada and States; International Control

London, Nov. 13.—John Robert Clynes, the British Food Controller, said to-day that the food situation in Europe continues to be serious, necessitating larger shipments until spring. He said that he confidently expected Canada and the United States to back up any British sacrifices which might be necessary in behalf of the needy peoples of Europe.

Mr. Clynes remarked that the situation had been prevented from becoming critical only by the fact that a certain amount of wheat flour reserves had accumulated in the United Kingdom. He continued:

"We are not yet sufficiently informed as to conditions in the liberated and enemy countries to announce any definite policy. In the liberated countries we are doing our best to meet emergencies as they arise, but this naturally involves an increase in what we previously had estimated to be the minimum amount of imported food required by the Allies from Canada, the United States and elsewhere."

"What action may be incumbent on the Allies remains to be seen. One thing is certain, and that is that the Allied food control must be continued at any rate for many months after peace comes, and probably must be extended till it will take an international scope."

"To carry out this plan effectively the Allies in Europe, during the vital period of recuperation, must rely upon a continuation of the far-sighted policy of the United States Government in providing credits for food supplies."

Meat Needed.
"Apart from the Allied situation as a whole, the commodities urgently needed in the case of the British Isles are meat, butter, cheese and cattle feeds. Unless there is an improvement in the supplies of these commodities the present meagre rations are likely to be cut down and the cattle supplies of the country may be reduced to such a minimum as to involve a long continued strain on the meat supplies available from other parts of the world. There is a strong feeling in this country that the bare necessities of life shall continue indefinitely under Government control. This gathers strength from ever-rising prices. I hope it may be possible to devise some plan of international action by which prices can be brought to an equitable basis and all profiteering in the food necessary to maintain human existence may be eliminated."

Said to Be Making Heligoland Their Base; Trouble at Antwerp; Wilson Informs Germans He Will Discuss Food Situation With Allies

London, Nov. 13.—According to advices from Bremen, the revolutionary sailors of the German navy have seized all the warships of the Empire and have established their control of Heligoland. What effect this will have on the agreement of Germany to surrender a certain number of war vessels to the Allies can not as yet be determined.

Basel, Nov. 13.—The crews of the German dreadnoughts Nassau, Posen, Ostfriesland and Oldenburg have joined the revolutionary movement, according to a dispatch from Brunsbuttel, Prussian Holstein.

The four battleships named are among the largest in the German navy. The Ostfriesland and Oldenburg are dreadnoughts completed in August, 1911, and August, 1912, respectively. They belong to the same class, displacing 21,000 tons and being 546 feet in length. They are armed with twelve 12-inch guns and smaller pieces and fitted with six torpedo tubes. The complement of each is 1,106 officers and men. The Nassau and the Posen are dreadnoughts completed in 1909 and 1910, respectively. They are ships of the same class and displace 18,900 tons, their length being 472 feet. They are armed with twelve 11-inch guns and smaller weapons and fitted with six torpedo tubes. The complement of each is 936 officers and men.

Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—Via London, Nov. 13.—Serious trouble has broken out in the German garrison at Antwerp, according to The Berliner Tageblatt.

Fighting in Berlin.
Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—Fresh fighting broke out in Berlin on Monday, according to messages received here from the German capital. Loyal officers opened fire from the royal stables and attacked the revolutionaries with machine guns in the Unter den Linden. Several persons were killed.

Wilson Answers Germans.
Washington, Nov. 13.—President Wilson has sent a reassuring message to the people of Germany in reply to the appeal from Chancellor Ebert. He promised to aid Germany's economic matter of food supplies and in relieving distressing want.

The reply was sent to-day by Secretary Lansing through Minister Sulzer, of Switzerland, who delivered yesterday Ebert's request for intervention by the President to mitigate the "fearful conditions" threatened through enforcement of the Allies' armistice terms. "It says steps are to be taken at once to organize relief work in the same systematic manner in which this was carried out in Belgium, but that the President desires to be assured that public order will be maintained in Germany and that an equitable distribution of food can clearly be guaranteed."

Text of Note.
Secretary Lansing's note to the Swiss Minister, dated November 12, is as follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your note of to-day, transmitting to the President the text of a cable inquiring whether this Government is ready to send foodstuffs into Germany without delay if public order is maintained in Germany and an equitable distribution of food is guaranteed. I should be grateful if you would transmit the following reply to the German Government:

"At a joint session of the two Houses of Congress on November 11, the President announced that the representatives of the Associated Governments in the Supreme War Council at Versailles had by unanimous resolution assured the peoples of the Central Empires that everything possible in the circumstances would be done to supply them with food and relieve the distressing want that is in so many places threatening their very lives, and that steps would be taken at once to organize these efforts under the same systematic manner that they were organized in the case of Belgium."

Idle Tonnage.
"Furthermore, the President expressed the opinion that by the use of the idle tonnage of the Central Empires it ought presently to be possible to lift the fear of utter misery from their oppressed peoples and set their minds and energies free for the great and hazardous tasks of political reconstruction, which now face them on every hand.

"Accordingly, the President now directs me to state that he is ready to consider favorably the supplying of foodstuffs to Germany and to take up the matter immediately with the Allied Governments, provided he can be assured that public order is being and will be maintained in Germany and that an equitable distribution of food can be clearly guaranteed."

"Accept, Sir, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration."
(Signed) "ROBERT LANSING."

The German Request.
This message was sent in response to the following message from Minister Sulzer:

"By direction of my Government, I have the honor to transmit the following cable:

"The German Government urgently requests the President of the United States to inform the German Chancellor (Ebert), by wireless whether he may be assured that the Government of the United States is ready to send foodstuffs without delay if public order is maintained in Germany and an equitable distribution of food is guaranteed."

"Accept, Sir, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration."

Delay Asked.
Paris, Nov. 13.—(Havas)—The German delegation to the armistice negotiations has issued a statement asserting that a brief delay in the evacuation of occupied territories and delivering of rolling stock is indispensable. They declare that to withdraw the troops and deliver the rolling stock immediately would render the execution of the armistice impossible.

No Changes.
London, Nov. 13.—The Allied high command has sent to the German high command by French wireless a message that there can be no modification of the conditions of the armistice, including the annexes, at this time.

It is added that a supplementary period of twenty-four hours for the evacuation of Belgium, Luxembourg and Alsace-Lorraine has been added to the fourteen days stipulated in the original text, so as to permit the text to reach German headquarters at the desired time.

Leaving Brussels.
Paris, Nov. 13.—The Germans have begun the evacuation of Brussels. A dispatch to the Paris edition of The New York Herald says King Albert and his family probably will re-enter Brussels next Friday.

NEW BAVARIAN GOVERNMENT DECLARES AGAINST MERCY FOR THE GERMAN JUNKERS

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—The new Bavarian Government has sent a message to President Wilson through Switzerland, expressing its fears that the armistice terms will bring chaos to the disordered young republic and requesting that Great Britain, France and Italy be asked to punish the guilty. The message adds that the German autocracy and military party do not deserve mercy.

LONDON GAVE ITSELF OVER TO CELEBRATION

London, Nov. 13.—Monday's celebration here overflowed into Tuesday, and continued far into last night. The people of London revelled in the luxury of lighted streets after living four years in a city of dismal gloom.

The main thoroughfares were crowded with singing and dancing youths. Motor cars were beflagged and packed with soldiers and girls, cheering and blowing horns. Long lines of people stood before the theatres and restaurants. The crowds were bursting with good nature, and were orderly. There was remarkably little drunkenness.

BELGIANS BITTER TOWARD GERMANS

Civilians Expressing Hatred of Nation Which Despoiled Their Country

Belgian Headquarters, Nov. 12.—(Via London, Nov. 12.)—"The war is over," was the expression heard everywhere in reoccupied Belgium yesterday. The news of the abdication and subsequent flight of the German Kaiser was received without elation or enthusiasm, but the news of the unconditional acceptance of Marshal Foch's conditions was greeted by the people and the soldiers with relief and satisfaction.

The civilian population is more bitter toward the Germans than are the soldiers who fought the enemy to a standstill. Terms of bitter hate and execration are heard among the civilians, while the soldiers grin soberly and say: "The war is over."

CANADA'S THANKS TO HER ARMED HEROES

Acting Prime Minister Sends Message of Appreciation to Forces

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—Sir Thomas White, Acting Prime Minister of Canada, has sent the following message on behalf of the people of Canada, to Lieutenant-General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian army: "Upon the conclusion of the armistice, which closes the war and stays the victorious advance of the gallant forces under your distinguished and most capable command, I desire on behalf of the people of Canada to convey to you and to them a most earnest expression of the deep and abiding sense of national appreciation and gratitude cherished by all your fellow-citizens for the heroic conduct and glorious achievements which have brought so much honor and credit to Canada and played so decisive a part in saving the Empire and preserving civilization itself. The courage, endurance, heroism and fortitude of the Canadian forces at the front have spread their fame throughout the world and will for all time be the pride and heritage and tradition of the Canadian people. Canada can never repay the debt which we owe for their sacrifices and sufferings in her defence."

Your leadership has been characterized by great courage, sound judgment, fine initiative and able strategy, inspiring confidence both in the field and at home, and I desire to express to you personally the admiration of your fellow-citizens of Canada for the brilliant results which have been achieved."

To Britain.

The following message was sent by Sir Thomas White to Mr. Lloyd George: "The Government and people of Canada rejoice with the people of Great Britain in the triumph just achieved over the forces which for four years have sought to crush our common liberties. Canada has a profound appreciation of the great sacrifices made by the people of the United Kingdom during this titanic struggle. The heroic valor of the army and the devoted service of that great navy which has kept the sea lanes safe and has done so much to enable the Allies to bring their full strength into the conflict will never be forgotten by the Canadian people. The principles upon which our Empire is founded have been gloriously vindicated."

"The people of Canada join with the other liberty-loving peoples of the world in the earnest hope that at the approaching peace conference such conclusion may be reached as will prevent the repetition of the horrors of this war and safeguard the future peace of the world."

KING'S MESSAGE TO THE BRITISH ARMY

Sovereign Praises Spirit Which Finally Has Brought Full Victory

London, Nov. 13.—In a message yesterday to the British army King George expresses his pride at the brilliant success which has crowned more than four years of effort and endurance. "Germany, who planned the war to gain supremacy of the world, full of pride in her armed strength and of contempt for the small British army of that day, has now been forced to acknowledge defeat," he said. "I rejoice that in this achievement the British forces, now grown from a small beginning to the finest army in our history, have borne so gallant and distinguished a part. Soldiers of the British Empire, the prowess of your arms, as great in retreat as in victory, has won the admiration of all—friend and foe—and has now by a happy historic fate enabled you to conclude the campaign by capturing Mons, where your predecessors in 1914 shed the first British blood. Between that date and this defeat has more than once stared you in the face. Your ranks have been thinned by wounds, sickness and death. But your faith has never faltered; your courage has never failed; your hearts have never known defeat. With your Allied comrades you have won the day."

"Others of you have fought in more distant fields—the mountains of Macedonia, the plains of Italy, in rugged Balkan ranges, under the burning sun of Palestine, Mesopotamia and Africa, amid the snows of Russia and Siberia, and by the shores of the Dardanelles. I pray that God, Who has been pleased to grant a victorious end to this great crusade for justice and right, will prosper and bless our efforts in the immediate future to secure for the generations to come the hard-won blessings of freedom and peace."

To Airmen.

In his message to the air forces, the King said: "Our far-flung squadrons have flown over home waters and foreign seas, the Western and Italian battlelines, the Rhineland, the mountains of Macedonia, Gallipoli and Palestine, the plains of Mesopotamia, the forests and swamps of East Africa, the northwest frontier of India and the deserts of Arabia, Sinai and Durrut. The birth of the Royal Air Force, with its wonderful expansion and development, will ever remain one of the most remarkable accomplishments of the great war."

BELGIUM WANTS NEW ORDER OF AFFAIRS

Washington, Nov. 13.—The Belgian Legation here in an official statement yesterday announced that Belgium will no longer submit to a status of "guaranteed neutrality" like that which existed before the war. It aspires to "complete independence to the rights common to all free peoples."

"A return to the status quo of 1839," the statement said, would entail a perpetual intrusion by Germany upon the domestic life of the nation and create a situation "intolerable to public opinion and certain to cause serious difficulties."

ALL OF GERMANY'S U BOATS GIVEN UP

Also 150,000 Railway Cars; Armistice Terms Amended by Foch

Washington, Nov. 13.—Amendments to the Allies' armistice terms made by Marshal Foch after his first meeting with the German plenipotentiaries, as announced last night by the State Department, include the delivery to the Allies of all of Germany's submarines, instead of the 160 specified in the original draft of the armistice. Another amendment specifies that "the countries on the left bank of the Rhine evacuated by the Germans shall be administered by the local troops of occupation," instead of by the local authorities under the control of the armies of occupation. Instead of the immediate withdrawal of German troops from Russia, as originally provided, the amended terms specify that they shall be withdrawn "as soon as the Allies, taking into consideration the internal situation of these territories (of Russia), shall decide that the time for this has come."

25,000 Machine Guns.

Reduction was made in the amount of certain military equipment to be delivered by the Germans to the Allied Governments, including 25,000 instead of 30,000 machine guns, and 1,700 airplanes instead of 2,000.

The number of railway cars to be delivered, however, was increased threefold, from 50,000 to 150,000. It was against the delivery of this amount of rolling stock that Dr. Foch protested to President Wilson, asserting that the food movement in Germany to the civil population will be greatly hampered.

Another amendment provides that the Allies give consideration to the provisioning of Germany during the armistice to the extent recognized as necessary.

To assure the execution of the armistice convention, "under the best conditions," the principle of a permanent International Armistice Commission is admitted. This Commission will "act under the authority of the Allied military and naval Commanders-in-Chief."

An amendment to the naval clause provides that all vessels designated to be interposed shall be ready to leave German ports within seven days of the signing of the armistice. Directions for the voyage (to either neutral ports or those of the Allied countries to be designated) will be given by wireless.

Former Pacts Renounced.

Other amendments include: "Renunciation" instead of "abandonment" of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk and of supplementary treaties.

Evacuation by all German forces operating in East Africa within a period to be fixed by the Allies instead of within one month.

German troops are required to withdraw immediately from Austria-Hungary as well as from Roumania and Turkey. Evacuation by the enemy of the Rhineland (left and right banks) shall be so ordered as to be completed within thirty-one days in all after the signing of the armistice, instead of nineteen days.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN BACK TO CANADA

35,000 Have to Be Brought Back From United Kingdom

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Thirty-five thousand women and children returning from Great Britain to Canada now that the seas are clear probably will be the first problem in transportation to be dealt with by the Committee on Demobilization. This movement will start in the interval between the signing of the armistice and when the actual demobilization of the army commences.

Rumors that the Canadian Railway War Board will end its activities now that the war is over were definitely settled in an official statement from one of the members to-day. "Canada has and must continue to have for some time to come," he said, "one single central railway control—the Canadian Railway War Board. When all the problems of demobilization and reconstruction are over this Board may be dispensed with, but I only say 'May.'"

Do More with your Shoe Dollars

EVERY shoe-dollar that is spent for real service-value helps to keep prices down and to conserve our precious supply of leather. Every dollar spent merely for show helps to send prices still higher and to make leather harder to get.

It is a small matter to the individual, but in the aggregate it is important. Happiness does not depend upon fancy tops to your shoes. It is no hardship to buy for service rather than merely for "looks," and you get better value for your money. Every pair of shoes bought on this basis helps to solve the nation's big shoe problem.

Look for the manufacturer's trade-mark on the shoes you buy. It is your safest guide in securing neat and attractive shoes for service and economy.

A.H.M. War-Time Selections offer Special Service Value for Men, Women and Children. Ask your dealer for them.

CHANGING FROM WAR TO PEACE PRODUCTION

Munitions Board Arranging for Transformation of Munitions Plant

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The Imperial Munitions Board desires it to be known that it is in communication with the British Ministry of Munitions regarding methods to be adopted to decrease the production of munitions in Canada. The orders now running in Canada, which were placed by the Imperial Munitions Board on behalf of the Ministry of Munitions and other British Government Departments, may be divided into three classes:

(a) Articles which are no longer required at all as a result of the cessation of hostilities and of which no use can be made—Shells and explosives. The further production of these would be economically wasteful, and it is expected therefore that the British Government will give instructions for their production to be discontinued as soon as possible.

(b) Articles which may no longer be actually required by the Government, but of which use can be made—Metals and raw materials of various descriptions.

In this class it may be found possible to allow existing contracts to run out or to bring them to an end gradually, the British Government taking any loss on the materials as they are delivered.

(c) Articles which are still likely to be required—Commercial lumber and ships. In this class it is not likely any change will be made in existing contracts. It should be stated that the Imperial Munitions Board has still a number of steel and wooden ships under construction for the British Government, in addition to the programme of merchant ship construction which is being carried out by the Canadian Government. This latter programme will take up the berths in shipyards now occupied by the Board's vessels as these are completed. As regards wooden ships, important contracts have been placed in Canada for this class of vessel by the French Government, and also on private account, which will insure continued operation of the yards.

With regard to class (a), the class of contracts which are likely to be discontinued as soon as possible, it is estimated that not more than 30,000 work people at present are employed in Canada on British Government contracts of this description. It is proposed by the Board, as the method of dealing with these, that manufacturers should be asked at once to discontinue the initial operations on materials. This would involve the reduction of their staff to the extent of perhaps ten to fifteen per cent of the number employed. This must be taken as a rough general average, as the numbers, of course, would vary in individual plants. The balance of the employees will be occupied in completing the manufacture of articles already in process, and as these are completed the staffs will be gradually reduced. This would go on till a fixed date, probably about the middle of December, after which further manufacturing operations in this class would cease.

Time Allowed.
It is hoped that by this method, sufficient time will be given for a considerable portion at any rate of the work people who will no longer be required for the manufacture of munitions to be absorbed in other employment. Many of the factories now making munitions have other lines of manufacture, the output of which has been restricted by shortage of material and labor, and which they may now be able to extend, as these restrictions will disappear through the cessation of hostilities. It is understood that the Canadian Government, as announced by the Acting Prime Minister, is taking up with the railways, and in other directions, the question of placing increased orders for manufactured goods and putting in hand new work of various kinds, in order to provide occupation for munition workers as they are released from munition factories.

FRENCH SOCIALISTS MAKING REQUESTS

Want Representatives of Working Classes Present at Peace Conference

Paris, Nov. 13.—French Socialists are demanding that the administration of affairs in France under military law be ended immediately and that an election be held at once to take action on problems arising out of the economic and political reorganization of the country.

The party leaders declare that measures of reorganization must be taken up with the General Labor Federation and that representatives of the working classes must be present at the peace conference. They say that an international Labor-Socialist conference should be held during the progress of the peace negotiations. A resolution embodying these demands was passed by the Socialist group of the Chamber of Deputies last Sunday.

And Now—Our Part

Canada's army has splendidly finished its share in saving civilization on the battlefield.

Now let us take up the completion of our share of the task.

Canada must still continue for a time to maintain her soldiers; must provide transportation to bring them home; must arrange for their future so that they may again become self-supporting units in a reconstructed world.

Canada must maintain prosperity at home—must continue for a time to finance the purchases of food and supplies for Great Britain and her Allies.

Canada must press forward her great shipbuilding programme in order that she may take her rightful place as a great sea-carrying Power.

For all these things hundreds of millions of dollars will be required. To demobilize and re-establish our soldiers in civil life alone will take many millions.

Canada's Victory Loan, 1918, will provide the necessary working capital.

Therefore, Canada's Victory Loan, 1918, must be a great oversubscribed success.

Our part, then, is to buy bonds and complete our great victory.

THREADING THE DARDANELLES.

Yesterday the Allied fleets entered the Dardanelles, the historic Hellespont across which passed the mighty army of Xerxes in its invasion of Greece in the fifth century before Christ, and which, a century and a half later, Alexander of Macedonia crossed in his conquering progress to the East. It was across the Dardanelles that Leander swam to his love-love maid, according to classic mythology, a feat which the more substantial Lord Byron and not a few others duplicated in times not so remote.

This is the first time in thirty years that a navy flying the flag of any of the Allies has passed up the Dardanelles. The last occasion was in 1878 when Turkey was reeling under the powerful paw of the Russian bear. Russia had reached the famous Tchataldja lines and once those fortifications were forced Constantinople would be open to her. Great Britain and France, however, were committed to the protection of Turkey, thereby "placing their money on the wrong horse," as Lord Salisbury afterwards admitted and pursuing a policy since shown to have been a fearful blunder, and threatened to intervene against Russia if she persisted in her advance to the Bosphorus. As a token of their determination the British fleet under Admiral Hornby who, some years before, had served in British Columbia waters, entered the Dardanelles and crossed the Sea of Marmora to the Bosphorus.

On October 22, 1853, a British and French fleet sailed up the Dardanelles to the Bosphorus and into the Black Sea in connection with the war against Russia in which Turkey, true to her role of playing one set of European powers against another for her own aims, had involved Great Britain and France. Fifty years before that a British fleet under Sir John Duckworth was instructed by Lord Collingwood to "provide for the British Ambassador's safety and dictate conditions to Turkey under the walls of Constantinople." The fleet undertook the perilous mission and after easily silencing the forts at the entrance to the strait had no difficulty in gaining the Sea of Marmora and reaching Constantinople; there were no mines and torpedoes in those days. But as events showed, the Turk was playing a deep game, and it is suspected that it was in accordance with his design that the hostile fleet was able to penetrate the passage so easily. Sir John Duckworth was delayed at Constantinople for three weeks by useless discussion and during that period the Turks worked night and day in fortifying the passage. The British fleet had to fight desperately along the whole length of the strait to get back to the Mediterranean but finally did so without the loss of a ship.

How near the Allied fleets came to repeating Admiral Duckworth's achievement early in 1915 is now common knowledge. In their last bombardment, in which more than thirty vessels participated, they had actually silenced Dardanaos, Kilid Behr and Chanak, the most formidable of the hostile forts, and the enemy had only thirteen armor-piercing shells left in its arsenal. General von Sanders, the enemy commander-in-chief, had made all arrangements for evacuating the straits early next day. His own special train with the personal effects of himself and staff was in readiness. All the archives had been removed from Constantinople across the Bosphorus and the Sultan and his numerous family were ready to leave. Unfortunately, the Allies did not return the next morning. They had lost five or six vessels and were not aware of the critical condition of their foe. If they only had known the whole face of the war would have been changed at that time.

A PERTINENT APPEAL.

The Dominion Minister of Agriculture has addressed an appeal to the farmers of Canada to give their full support to the Victory Loan. Evidently, the appeal has special reference to the Prairie grain-growers, for up to last night the total combined subscriptions of two of the Provinces east of the Rockies were barely more than the aggregate of British Columbia alone, and they, therefore, are very much behind their allotments.

The country certainly has done well by the grain-growers during the war. An unprecedentedly large price was set for their product, which has had a great deal to do with the abnormally high cost of living to the consumers in the cities. With this guarantee of a big margin of profit they have had a market which imperatively called for all they could produce. These circumstances have given to them, not millions, but hundreds of millions in the last four years which otherwise never would have gone to them. One of the chief objects of the loan is to finance the marketing of their crop next year. From no class is the Dominion entitled to expect a readier response than from the Prairie producers, and this is altogether apart from the appeal the loan should make to their business sense. We hope the farmers of the Prairie Provinces will respond as freely as the farmers of Vancouver Island are responding. The Island agriculturists are deserving of hearty commendation for the support they are giving to the loan.

IN FOUR MONTHS.

Four months ago to-morrow the German army in the great crescent front from Soissons to beyond Rheims and under the then German Crown Prince, stood on tip-toe in readiness for the spring the next morning which was planned to end the war with a "German peace." The artillery already had begun its thunderous prelude. All Germany's military masters were rubbing their hands in glee. No "soft peace," admonished the individual who was then Kaiser. "We shall collect £10,000,000,000 in indemnities," said The Tages Zeitung. The warbund and, in fact, the whole of Germany, never were more certain of absolute overwhelming success than they were on July 14, the fete day of France.

On that same day Foch also had concluded preparations. He knew exactly what was coming and when and where it was coming. But that was not all Foch had in mind. His own hour was at hand. The time for initiating the "decisive blow," for which the Allied world familiar with his methods had been waiting for four months, had been determined, and cunningly concealed in the dense Villers-Cotterets forest was the powerful force which was to open the innings of the Allies.

The Germans attacked on a sixty-mile front on July 15. They made progress only south of the Marne, where fresh American divisions finally repulsed them. Gouraud stopped them almost in their tracks east of Rheims. On July 18 Mangin launched his storming divisions from the Villers-Cotterets forest southwest of Soissons and crushed the German flank—and then began the avalanche which swept Germany into ruins. "Foch's battle," therefore, began on July 18 and did not end until the British were in Mons, the French and Americans in Sedan, the Italians in Trieste and Trent, and the Serbs in Belgrade. It was the most stupendous feat of arms in history, and by comparison reduced Germany's greatest efforts to a minor scale; it showed up Hindenburg and Ludendorff as amateurs alongside the great Marshal of France who planned it and the brilliant Allied leaders who executed it.

Just four months—and in that time the whole Quadruple Alliance has fallen to ruins! Emperors and kings have been driven from their thrones, and the princes, grand dukes and generals who last July were deliriously applauded by their peoples are now fugitives from the same populace stung to revolt by the bitterness of defeat and the fear of consequences. New nation after new nation has sprung into existence. The human mind is unable to grasp the full significance of all these epochal developments. But it does know, and knows with inexpressible gladness, that fighting has ended on the battlefield.

A TERRIBLE RECOIL.

When Germany began her submarine piracy she sounded the death-knell of perhaps millions of her own people and people of her allies. By sinking ships carrying food cargoes in the hope of starving the Allies she reduced her own chances of escaping that fate. If she had observed the rules of warfare at sea there would have been a sufficient supply of food on hand now to enable the Allies to send sufficient to her to keep famine at a safe distance. As it is, it will be impossible for them to give her more than a fraction of what they otherwise would have been able to convey to her. They first must supply their own needs. Belgium and northern France have been on almost starvation rations for four years. Thousands of people have starved to death in Roumania, Serbia, Poland and Montenegro. There are forty million people in Russia who will be without food this winter—and Russia, it is remembered, up to the time of Bolshevik control had sustained more than 7,000,000 casualties for the common cause. No matter how generous the Allies may desire to be Germany herself has limited their capacity for helping her food situation. The world she assailed so brutally cannot do the impossible in seasoning justice with mercy. The policy of assassination of innocent people from ambush at sea, of sinking "without trace," as Count Luxburg put it, has been a ghastly boomerang now recoiling upon its authors.

The new Bavarian Government is asking Great Britain, France and Italy to punish the guilty Prussian autocracy and militarists. From this a stranger from Mars might imagine that Bavaria had been an innocent but injured bystander during the last four years.

F. J. Staepole, K. C., recently appointed Registrar-General of Titles for British Columbia, has taken over his new post. Mr. Staepole's appointment was received with general satisfaction, his high character and ability guaranteeing the faithful and efficient performance of the important duties of his office.

Now that the happy distraction caused by the signing of the armistice has subsided to some extent we suggest that the Ottawa Government begin the reconsideration of its decision regarding additional allowances for the dependents of soldiers. As we pointed out when Major-General Mewburn in a speech at Vancouver foreshadowed an increase of $5 per month that sum is absolutely inadequate. It is less than the monthly increase of the cost of living as shown by the report of the Ottawa Department of Labor. Does the Government ever look into those reports when it is considering questions of this kind, or is it unable to grasp the significance of the statistics embodied in them?

the former Kaiser and his family from escaping into Holland. Late Saturday night and shortly before 6 o'clock on Sunday morning, he says, the sound of a cannon could be heard from German territory. It was reported that a fight had taken place between revolutionists and Royalists, and that both sides had used artillery.

Aged Generals.

Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—A few aged generals accompanied Wilhelm Hohenzollern in his flight to Holland. When they reached the frontier they were stopped by Dutch frontier guards, and sent for General Clemen, chief of the internment service, and some local authorities. After being introduced to the former Kaiser, General Onnen entered the automobile, which had crossed the frontier, and drove off. The bystanders hissed the former German Kaiser. One of the generals in the party was in tears when the group drove away.

Party of Fifty.

Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—Count von Bentinck, at whose castle Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the former German Kaiser, is staying, told The Handelsblad to-day that it was only yesterday afternoon that he received a sudden request from the Dutch Government asking him to accommodate Wilhelm Hohenzollern and his suite, the number in the retinue not being given. As the party numbers about fifty, the majority of its members are being lodged at two neighboring country hotels.

Reached Castle.

Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the former German Kaiser, arrived Monday afternoon at the Castle of Amerongen, Count von Bentinck's country seat at Maarn, in the Province of Utrecht. Soon after 4 o'clock a special train stopped near the little country station near the castle. Count Bentinck awaited his guests in an automobile. It was raining as the former Kaiser, dressed in a blue-grey uniform, stepped out with red cuffs and fur collar, but no orders or medals, and carrying a cane, stepped from the train and was greeted by the Count.

Protected by Council.

Copenhagen, Nov. 12.—Via London. Nov. 13.—The new palace at Potsdam where the former German Kaiserin, former Crown Princesses and other children are living, has been taken under the protection of the Potsdam Soldiers' and Workmen's Council. The former Kaiserin has expressed to the Council, according to a Berlin dispatch, her thanks for the protection.

Some Freedom.

Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—According to Eeyden advices, the German officers with former Kaiser Wilhelm will be allowed to disband from Berlin. Hohenzollern will not be asked to give his parole, but it will be silently assumed as a moral obligation. Some freedom will be permitted him.

With Mr. Hohenzollern.

London, Nov. 13.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Maarne, Holland, says that among those who accompanied the former German Kaiser to the castle of Amerongen were Generals von Fleschen, von Gaotard, von Frankenberg, von Lintoff and von Grimm.

The Amsterdam correspondent of The Daily Mail says that the former Kaiser is not regarded as an officer because he has resigned his titles and offices.

At Charleroi Line.

With the British Army in France and Belgium, Nov. 13.—How far the main German armies have retreated in this region cannot be set definitely. It is probable, however, that they have at least reached the Brussels-Charleroi line.

The enemy rearwards early this morning had vanished from the vicinity of Mons and points farther south.

German War Loan.

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—The Socialist organ, Vorwaerts, of Berlin, repudiates the rumor current in Germany that the new People's Government intends to annul the war loan. The newspaper says the subscription to the tenth war loan have reached 10,900,000,000 marks.

Roumania's Course.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Roumania's reported new declaration of war against Germany is interpreted here as preliminary to measures to disarm and drive out the German army under Mackensen which has been oppressing the Roumanians since the Treaty of Bucharest ended the helplessness of the population.

Word reached here to-day through official channels that the reorganized Government in Roumania is headed by General Cosdat.

Alsace-Lorraine.

Strasbourg, Alsace-Lorraine, Nov. 13.—Via Amsterdam.—Members of the second Chamber of Alsace-Lorraine have constituted themselves into a National Council. A provisional Executive Commission has been appointed.

A German Revolt.

British Headquarters in Flanders, Nov. 13.—(Havas).—The German garrison in Brussels has revolted against the Chamber of Deputies, and is trying to neutralize reaching the British lines from Brussels. Several of the officers were killed.

Council Supreme.

London, Nov. 12.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen says the demands of the Independent Socialists in Germany, which have been accepted by the majority Socialists, include the provision that political power shall be in the hands of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council, which will be summoned in plenary assembly to represent the whole country as soon as possible.

Bolshevism.

London, Nov. 12.—The most serious question of the hour, in the opinion of some newspapers here, is how far Europe is infected with Bolshevism.

Some German newspapers and some in neutral countries continue to warn the world not to push Germany too far to the wall, lest she be driven into anarchy. Some British newspapers consider this as German propaganda to gain leniency.

The general British views to be summarized in the question whether the cost of rehabilitation of Europe should be borne by the victims of the devastation, by its authors and in the declaration that the German armies should be deprived of all arms in the interests of Germany herself, thus making internal fighting less possible when the armies are repatriated.

At Council's Disposal.

Copenhagen, Nov. 12.—The commander of the German eastern army, which is now occupying Russian territory, has placed himself and his army at the disposal of the Soldiers' Council, according to the Wolff Bureau, of Berlin.

Hunger of Germans.

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—A Wolff Bureau dispatch says the German Socialists have telegraphed Hjalmar Branting, the Swedish Socialist leader, laying emphasis on the statement that the continuation of the Allied blockade is causing suffering in Germany, involving women and children.

"The proletariat of all enemy countries should protest against a hunger war," says the dispatch, which requests Branting to communicate the appeal of the Socialists to the international organization.

Lokal Anzeiger.

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—The Lokal Anzeiger, of Berlin, announces that it had obtained the protection of the Government against the Spartacus group, which seized the newspaper and re-named it the Red Banner, according to a dispatch from Berlin. The Lokal Anzeiger has resumed publication under its old title.

Another Abdication.

Berne, Nov. 13.—Prince Leopold of Lippe-Detmold renounced his throne on Tuesday, according to the semi-official Wolff Bureau, of Berlin.

Reuss Abdication.

London, Nov. 13.—Another of the minor rulers of German states who have quit their thrones is Prince Heinrich XXVII. of Reuss.

War Council of Allies.

Paris, Nov. 13.—The Inter-Allied War Council is expected to assemble here at an early date to take up questions growing out of the signing of the armistice and concerning the conclusion of peace. No date, however, has yet been fixed for the meeting.

Statement of Clemenceau.

Paris, Nov. 13.—Premier Clemenceau, in concluding his speech in the Chamber of Deputies on Monday on the armistice terms said: "Germany waited until the last minute, and being exhausted has been obliged to accept capitulation. In the first hour we must come to her aid. We do not want war against humanity, but for humanity."

Transylvania.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Advices received here say the Roumanian National Committee in Transylvania, which, with the support of the Allies expects reunion with Roumania, has declared its independence of Hungary. Roumanian volunteer troops have crossed the border into Transylvania as an army of occupation.

Jews in Vienna.

Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—A meeting of 5,000 Jewish soldiers formed a Soldiers' and Workmen's Council, and occupied Leopoldstadt, an eastern quarter of Vienna, according to a Vienna dispatch which quotes the Jewish Correspondence Bureau. The administration of the Jewish community is in the hands of a Jewish National Council. Jewish communities of Moldavia have accepted the Jewish national programme.

EFFORT WILL BE TO REACH FIVE MILLION DOLLARS IN CANVASS

perity has been instituted by the members of the Pacific Club. In that institution already twenty-four Victory Bonds have been raffled, and won among the members.

James Island Keeps Up Pace.

After their second visit to the big Munitions Plant, J. W. Hudson's canvassers returned from James Island last night having sold another 44,000 worth of Bonds. The inhabitants of the island had already applied for $20,000 worth, and with the 44,000 taken in yesterday they are well entitled to an Honor Flag. Such a reward, it was announced at headquarters this morning will be presented to the island as soon as the returns are complete.

Sunday School Invests.

The loan officials have been notified by Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, that the Sunday School of St. John's Church, of which he is pastor, has invested in Bonds. The money will be used to carry on work among the Indians and Eskimos of Canada.

Montreal Raises Quota.

Montreal, Nov. 13.—With collections to date amounting to $80,665,850, Montreal is over the top, her official objective in the Victory Loan is attained, her honor flag is won, and she is the first great city in the Dominion to have achieved this record. During the remaining three days of the campaign officials are confident that a further $20,000,000, possibly more, will be raised. The official objective set for Montreal was $90,000,000.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, November 13, 1893.

Alderman Munn wants the voting public to be well-informed in the qualifications of a voter for the municipal election. He has bulletined a notice requesting that the City Clerk so inform the electors through the newspapers.

The sum of $4,000 of the award for losses under the modus vivendi of 1891 still remains in the hands of Collector Milne and Capt. Gaudin, of the Marine and Fisheries Department. In some instances the money is in dispute, in others insufficient proof has been submitted.

INFLUENZA.

To the Editor.—The ravages of influenza are still with us, and the efforts, not alone of our city, seem unable to hold it in control. Meanwhile, our families suffer; the year's education of our youth is disrupted, and churches and theatres are being forced steadily toward bankruptcy. All of these things the soul of our nation is willing to suffer, partly out of loyalty to and faith in the officials in control, and partly out of loyalty to, and sympathy with the common public.

tients, either some more positive information should be at hand as to its treatment, or there should be a general review of the method of handling. Up to date it is reported that the doctors are agreed that influenza is a germ disease, although they do not seem to have yet distinguished the germ. However, on this assumption there are two things that some of us who are laymen in this respect, have heard of as being necessary in handling such diseases—one is to avoid exposure to the germ, and the other is to separate or isolate the germ-carriers. One part of the method is largely negated by the neglect of the other. Some of us who are interested would like to know why both of these things have not been done.

As far as our city is concerned, I think it is time that a committee composed of the Medical Health Officer, another doctor selected by the profession, the Mayor, and representatives from the religious, educational, and theatrical institutions be appointed at once to find out what methods have been used on the continent, and their success or failure in handling the disease; the reason why isolation has not been attempted here, and a general survey of the conditions locally.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Sea Robin

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was walking along the seashore beach one day, and he was wondering if he would have any more adventures before his vacation ended and he had to go back to his hollow stump bungalow in the woods.

"I would like just one more, real nice adventure," said Uncle Wiggily. "Hardly had he spoken, as they say in fairy stories, before, all of a sudden, out from the ocean and up onto the beach, there flopped a very queer fish.

And the queerest part about the fish was that it seemed to have wings, like a bird, though Uncle Wiggily knew well enough, just as you do, that fish don't fly under water, though there is a certain kind of bird that swims under water almost like a fish.

"My! This is certainly a queer chap!" thought the bunny rabbit gentleman. I wonder if it is a flying fish or a swimming bird?

He looked more closely at the creature that had come up out of the ocean, and saw that it had a very sad sort of a face, rather square, with a slanting nose. The fish looked as if it hadn't a friend left anywhere, and it sighed most sadly and said, in Friday language, or fish-talk:

"Oh, dear! What's the use of living?" "Why, I'm surprised at you for saying that," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "There are all sorts of reasons for living. You may do a great deal of good in this world."

"No, never!" answered the fish. "Do you know who I am?" "I am sorry to say I haven't the honor," spoke the bunny with a low and polite bow of his tail-stick hat.

"Well, I am the sea robin," was the answer. "A flying fish or a swimming bird?" asked the bunny.

"A little of each," was the answer. "But the trouble is, I am like a bat. The birds don't want the bat to be friends with them, even if he has wings, and the animals don't want him to be with them, even if he has a body like a mouse. It's that way with me. The fishes say I'm more of a bird than I am an ocean animal, and yet I can't fly well enough to go up in the air with the birds."

"So I just flopped out of the water to die, as I am of no use in this world."

ALASKA MINING CAMP

Haycock, With Only Five White Women, Has Flourishing Auxiliary

Up in Alaska, in the little town of Haycock, a mining camp of 150 inhabitants, there are but five women and three of them Swiss, states The Seattle Post-Intelligencer. These women organized a Red Cross auxiliary, according to local headquarters of the Northwest division. Haycock is 180 miles inland from Nome, Alaska, and is shut off from the world in winter, except for the mail brought to the little town once a month by dog team. Through this channel the women of the town heard the great needs of the Red Cross, and thereupon called a meeting, to which four white women and five native women responded.

The women gave a dance as a means of raising funds, making $90, but it was a rather strenuous affair, as there were only five women to sixty men. They therefore decided to start a regular Red Cross drive for membership, appointing a committee of three men. The Chairman of which was a German, who gave $50 just for a starter. Every one subscribed to the Red Cross Magazine, and took membership, many of them making donations, thereby raising a fund of $600, which they sent to Nome.

The Red Cross Chapter at Nome has sent them needles, and at every opportunity the native women may be seen knitting industriously. This little village in the land of ice and snow is 100 per cent. Red Cross. Everyone is wearing a Red Cross button and mighty proud of it.

American Colonel
Gives Free Advice to Rheumatics

SAYS IT'S SHEER FOLLY FOR ANYONE TO SUFFER THESE DAYS

Rheumatism can't be cured so long as your system is weak and run down. You must first build up and get strength to fight off the disease.

Ferrazone cures because it builds up, because it restores the blood and dissolves the Uric Acid and the poisons that cause rheumatism.

It is proved right here that Ferrazone does cure.

Col. H. M. Russ, of Edwards, St. Lawrence Co., one of the fine old heroes of the Civil War, was completely restored by Ferrazone. Read his statement:

"I couldn't get around without a cane, and then only with difficulty. 'Rheumatism took complete control of my limbs.

"Suffering was more intense than hardships on the battlefield. 'When my doctor had done his best I got Ferrazone."

"Then came a quick change. 'Ferrazone gave me comfort at once, eased the pain and took the stiffness out of my muscles.

"I am well to-day. Ferrazone cured me completely. I can jump and run like I did forty years ago."

Be sensible about your case. If your present medicine is useless give it up.

F. W. Ankettell-Jones, of Chetumal, is a visitor in the city to-day.

Miss L. F. Whitley, of Vancouver, is visiting in the city as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Whitley, 144 Howe Street.

H. A. Hostetter has returned home to Victoria after a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. Splayford, Manhattan Apartments, Vancouver.

Mrs. W. J. Mable and her daughter Lomah spent a short time in Vancouver en route to their home in Victoria, after visiting friends in the East.

Mrs. W. G. McLaren, of 464 Linden Avenue, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Gorman, has arrived home after an absence of five months, during which they visited friends in the East.

Mrs. Winslow, wife of the late Major Winslow, and Miss Helen Whitehead, who have been nursing overseas, returned to Vancouver on Sunday. Mrs. Winslow is now the guest of Mrs. Whitehead.

The marriage took place at St. Margaret's, Westminster, London, on October 16 of Capt. William S. Ager, of Carmichael, R.E., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carmichael, Victoria, to Miss Elizabeth (Betty) Shawcross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shawcross, Rochdale, Lancashire.

Maude Adams, the noted actress, who early this year charmed Victoria with her performance in "A Kiss For Cinderella," is lying seriously ill at Nashville, Tennessee, where she has been playing in that production. Miss Adams was born in Salt Lake City, and on Monday celebrated her forty-sixth birthday.

In the presence of intimate friends of the contracting parties, a pretty wedding took place at the Naval and Military Garrison Church, Esquimalt, on Saturday evening when the Rev. W. Baugh-Aiken united in marriage Charles Walton, of Victoria, and Lily Newburn, of 503 Esquimalt Road. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore her travelling suit and a smart hat en suite. She was attended by Miss Adelaide McGregor, while the groom was supported by Thos. Sullivan, of this city. After a honeymoon trip to the Sound cities, Mr. and Mrs. Walton will make their home in Victoria.

Mrs. G. S. Ager has returned to Victoria after an absence of two years in London and has taken up her residence at 514 Trutch Street. She brought the news of the death of her husband, Capt. George S. Ager, who was killed early in 1915, shortly after having been recommended for the Military Cross. This is the first news which has reached Victoria regarding Capt. Ager since he was reported wounded at the first battle of Ypres in April, 1915, and his death will be greatly regretted by all who knew him during his sojourn in the city as Secretary of the Canadian Mosaic Tile Company. The late Capt. Ager was one of the first Victorians to join the 50th Gordon Highlanders, and went overseas with the First Contingent.

Last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Barker, Dallas Road, the Rev. Wm. Stevenson officiated at the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Hazel Olive Barker, to William Newman Edwards, a former of Gordon Head. The bride made a charming picture in her wedding gown of soft white silk, the bodice made in bolero style trimmed with gold lace and tiny pink roses. She wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and bridal roses. Her two younger sisters, Lesma and Lillian, acted as bridesmaids, while the groom was supported by Grant A. Lindquist. Owing to the prevailing epidemic of the intimate friends of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards will make their home at Gordon Head.

WAR AND THE SUGAR BOWL

No. 3

Sugar is the best of the "quick energy" foods to stimulate blood and brains of soldiers in the grim campaign. They must get it. Manufacturers and all large users have been strictly limited by the Food Board in the use of sugar, and they are now using substitutes in large quantities in a splendid effort to conserve, yet serve the public as well as before. Private homes should follow their example and use substitutes, especially corn syrup and glucose. —Canada Food Board.

CANADA'S GLORIOUS PART COMMENDED IN ENGLISH NEWSPAPER

Her Share in Overthrowing the Hun Wins Growing Tribute.

Under the head of "Glorious Canada—Her Part in Overthrowing the Hun," an article in the New York Times, London, written previous to the fourth anniversary celebrations of the arrival of the first contingent in England, pays a glowing tribute to the part the men from the Land of the Maple have played in the great world's war. "Glorious and imperishable memories will be revived," says the writer, "on Monday when the fourth anniversary will be celebrated of the arrival of the first Canadian contingent in England sworn to wage war to the death on Russian militarism. In dogged tenacity and in 'killing capacity' to use an expression which the Canadians will understand, the splendid men of the Dominion have proved themselves second to none of the units in the glorious Army now advancing on the German frontier. The record of the Canadian Expeditionary Force is remarkable both in regard to its steady growth and the engagements in which Canadian troops have taken part. Its growth is best recorded in the following table, which has been compiled from the latest official figures:

Regular Canadian troops at outbreak of war	3,000
Number of First Contingent...	32,000
Canadian soldiers sent overseas up September 1, 1918	400,000
Troops in training	60,000
Canadian soldiers killed in action	50,000
Casualties over	115,000
Wounded returned to the front	49,000
Returned to Canada	50,000
Number who have received decorations	10,000
Awarded the Victoria Cross	44

Review of Exploits.
The First Division went into training on Salisbury Plain about the middle of October, 1914, and sailed for France on February 9, 1915. The Canadians arrived in Flanders in time to bear the brunt of the Second Battle of Ypres in April, 1915, which culminated in a German defeat and the winning of much glory for Canada. Since then they have participated in some of the stiffest fights of the war. They were at Festubert in 1915, and took part with the First Army in some singular fighting for La Quenotte, Rue, in June, 1915. They were at Givenchy in the Aubers Ridge offensive, and in September their artillery work at Loos was a feature of the fighting. Throughout the whole of April, 1918, the men of the 2nd Canadian Division fought a terrible and inconclusive battle for the possession of the mine craters before the village of St. Eloi. In June of that year the third great German attempt for Ypres was made. On June 2 the enemy attacked and pressed our men back. But on the 13th the Canadians counter-attacked and regained the lost positions.

Events of 1916 and 1917.

"At Courcellette, on the Somme, in September, 1916, the Canadians gained a brilliant victory, capturing the village and penetrating beyond their final objectives. Regina Trench was the scene of some of the bloodiest fighting of the war in the autumn of 1916. It was captured by the 4th Canadian Division on November 11. In April of last year the country rang with the exploits of the Canadians at Vimy Ridge. The Germans deemed this position impregnable. It was captured by the Canadian Corps in one of the most carefully conceived and brilliantly executed enterprises of the war. Afterwards, in many weeks of close fighting, the Canadians prepared the way for the capture of Lens. Then came the battles for Passchendaele in October-November, 1917. There were four distinct battles in this operation, and the final attack upon November 10 gained the Canadian Corps the whole object of the offensive. In the fighting at Villers-Bretonneux in March, 1918, the Canadian Motor Machine-Gun Battalion materially assisted in the first real check to the great German advance. Last of all come their wonderful exploits at Amiens, Monchy, Cambrai, of which the last has not been heard."

TO HELP RED CROSS

Chairman Appeals for Purchase of Bonds to Help Society.

Chairman F. W. Jones, of the Victoria Red Cross Society, issues an appeal to donate Victory Bonds for the Red Cross.

"No one realizes better," he says, "than the Red Cross workers the absolute necessity for the success of the present Victory Loan Campaign. Their whole organization is working to help win the war, and to back up and comfort the man at the front when his need is greatest. The support for the Red Cross comes from all classes of people. The need for liberal support will continue long after the actual fighting has ceased on all fronts. Those responsible for the Red Cross activity know that to ensure this continued support the wheels of industry throughout Canada must be kept turning, and that the Victory Loan is essential to this end."

"So the Red Cross workers say, 'Buy Victory Bonds,' but add, 'Give them to the Red Cross when paid for.' A statistician has figured that ten per cent. of the Victory Bonds subscribed for could be given to the Red Cross, that is ten per cent. of those subscribing could afford to give their bonds to so great a cause. Look what this would mean, transformed into comforts for the sick and wounded. Suppose, however, this be reduced another 50 per cent., and say that one per cent. of the bonds can be spared for the Red Cross. One per cent. of Victoria's five million objective would mean $50,000 for Red Cross work.

"The Red Cross appeals to everyone to take all the bonds they can possibly finance, and to have as many of them as they can afford made out in the name of the Canadian Red Cross Society."

BOLSHEVIKS STILL TO BE TAMED IN SIBERIA

Signing of Armistice Not Affecting Job Ahead of Willows Troops

From inquiries made of Major General R. G. E. Leckie, General Officer Commanding M.D. 11, there has been no indication from Ottawa leading to belief that there would be any change of policy regarding the disposition of the Canadian-Siberian Expeditionary Force now assembled at the Willows Camp.

The fact that it is altogether likely several weeks, or even months may intervene between the signing of the armistice and the final agreement upon a Peace Treaty will still necessitate the sending of additional forces to the Eastern theatre of operations, if only for the restoration of order among the internal warring factions of Russia.

Apparently the great conflagration which officially and actually became extinguished at eleven o'clock on Monday last is now reduced to elements of civil strife within Teutonic territory itself and the half-hearted struggle between the Bolshevik troops and the Czech-Slovaks, the latter of whom the Canadian-Siberian troops will soon be aiding.

While it may be generally supposed that orders will be given at an early date regarding demobilization plans as they affect this District, General Leckie has no hint of any movement at present. Moreover it is regarded as probable that apart from the general intimation now issued that the manufacture of war material will be discontinued, any purely military changes will not take effect until the Peace Treaty has been signed.

No Drugs to Take—Just Breathe the Soothing, Healing Vapor of "Catarrhazone."

There are to-day but few parts of the world into which Catarrhazone has not penetrated. From far away Jamaica comes the following letter from Mr. C. S. Burke, of 24 Robert St., Almon Town:

"I am elated over the results of 'Catarrhazone.' To be brief, will say the treatment has cured me; it has done all that heart could wish. I was never better pleased with anything than with 'Catarrhazone.' It did its work well. I am satisfied and will never forget this wonderful remedy. I am grateful for what it has done for me, and with greatest gratitude, remain, &c. (S. C. Burke).

From Secondee, Gold Coast, West Africa, Mrs. A. J. Roberts writes:—"I received a sample of 'Catarrhazone' through a local merchant that deals in the preparation, and found it had a marvelous effect on nasal Catarrh. I at once bought a dollar outfit and now have pleasure in saying that for the first time in many years I am able to breathe freely through my nose. Bad breath disappeared, headache over the eyes went away, throat irritation has entirely ceased. 'Catarrhazone' cured me."

CAUSTIC COMMENT ON FUEL CONTROL

Fuel Administrator's Suggestion to Council Stirs Hornets' Nest

A letter addressed by Nicol Thompson, Fuel Administrator for British Columbia, to the City Council recommending the appointment of a local commissioner to handle the situation in Victoria, with which was enclosed a copy of the regulations showing that such an appointment was authorized thereby, resulted in stirring up a veritable hornets' nest when the letter was read at last night's meeting of the Council.

Mr. Thompson pointed out that no heed had been paid by the municipalities to the fact that provision had been made in the Order-in-Council authorizing them to make such appointments, which he regretted.

"We don't want a controller here. All we need is more coal for less money," exclaimed Alderman Andrews, turning to Alderman Walker for some enlightenment as to what the public might expect the coal prices to be this winter.

"You know as much as I do," responded the latter, who expressed his opinion that there was no need of a controller. Other members of the Council agreed on this point.

There might be some reason for such an appointment if it was intended to carry out the regulations in a businesslike way. If it is to be treated as a joke, it is simply a waste of time and money. I speak from experience as an adviser to the Fuel Board," said Alderman Porter.

Alderman Cameron thought that if a fuel controller appointed by the highest authority in the land could not handle the problem—it was hardly to be expected that a locally appointed man would have much influence in dealing with the matter.

It was moved that the letter should be received and filed, and the resolution carried.

Don't expect your friends to be stuck on your jokes if they are pointless.

Appreciate Efforts by Willows
Camp Chapter; Bereaved
Mother Donates Pillows

Pioneers in the kindly work of undertaking the collection of delicacies for the sick patients among the Siberian forces at the Willows Camp, the members of the Willows Camp Chapter, I. O. D. E., feel justly proud of the following letter received from the O. C. of the 16th Field Ambulance, C. E. F., stationed at the Camp:

"To the Regent, Willows Camp Chapter.
"Dear Madam.—Will you please accept from me on behalf of the sick at present under my care, many thanks for your splendid courtesy in forwarding us so many delicacies and luxuries for the use and comfort of our boys in Camp. No one understands better than the Medical Officer in charge, what influence these kindnesses have in promoting their welfare and final return to good health and to duty. Most of the boys are at present miles from home, and they will leave Willows Camp for Siberia with very pleasant memories of Victoria and of the very kind ladies of your Chapter who are doing so much for their comfort."
(Signed) C. A. WARREN,
"Lieut.-Col., C.A.M.C."

Tribute to I. O. D. E. Hospital.
Among the gifts received by the Chapter during the past week were six feather pillows and twelve pillow-cases donated by Mrs. H. K. Andrew, "in remembrance of the loving care received by her son, the late Capt. Patrick Andrew, when he was a patient in the I. O. D. E. Hospital, London, after he was wounded for the first time." Other donations received in the week ending November 13 are: those from Mrs. Laxton, Mrs. F. James, Mrs. Macey, Miss A. Smith, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Straith, Miss D. Smith, Miss C. Nelson, Miss D. Pease, Miss O'Brien, Mrs. Holyoake, Mrs. Codrington, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Brown-Constable, Miss F. Buss, Mrs. D. Miller, Miss L. MacEachern, Mrs. Ross, Miss D. Harris, who sent a very generous donation of tinned soup, milk, jelly, powders, chocolate and cigarettes.

Appeal for Cakes.
There is still urgent need for donations of home-made cakes, which are especially appreciated by the convalescents. Such gifts may be left at the I. O. D. E. headquarters in the Arcade Building on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

PATRIOTIC ALLOWANCE WILL BE INCREASED

Following the recent advice from Ottawa announcing an increase of $5 per month in the separation allowances of soldiers' dependents, and as a sequel to numerous telegrams of protest from many points in British Columbia, the following telegram has been received this afternoon by Dr. S. P. Tomin, Federal Member for Victoria, from the Hon. S. C. Mewburn, Minister of Militia and Defence:
"Referring to your telegram. Separation allowance increase granted. Was done after most careful consideration, having regard to all provinces, and after consultation with National Executive Committee of the Canadian Patriotic Fund Association. This committee has authorized its British Columbia committee to increase patriotic fund allowance by about twenty-five per cent, the joint increase of separation allowance and patriotic fund allowance was considered sufficient to meet the situation in your province. Please advise all concerned."
From inquiries at local headquarters of the Canadian Patriotic Fund this afternoon it is understood that the increase referred to in the Minister's telegram will not apply to a dependent without children. The tentative suggestion, and the subject of many telegrams between here and Ottawa, is an increase of $2.50 to the regular monthly allowance from the Patriotic Fund, now $10. No decision has been reached between the British Columbia Committee and the National Committee regarding a proportionate increase in the case of the allowance for children.

DELEGATES SEEK REORGANIZATION

Changes Necessary in Department of Agriculture, Says Farmers' Institutes' Board

Delegates representing British Columbia's Farmers' Institutes and constituting themselves as the Advisory board for the Province met in session at the Parliament Buildings this morning and commenced discussion of a varied and lengthy agenda. While the prevailing epidemic was responsible for the absence of at least two representatives, the following gentlemen comprised the working board at the opening session: James Bailey, Chilliwack; Whitney Griffiths, Metochin; Lional Taylor, Kelowna; W. Harrison, Pritchard; Silverthorn-Houston, Bulkley Valley; Heaven, Grand Forks; William Staples, Creston; A. Smith, Cranbrook; and Mr. Ross, Prince George.

Reorganization of Department.
Possibly one of the most salient features of this morning's business was complete agreement upon the subject of a recommendation to the Government expressing the view that the time had arrived for one or two things in respect of the Department of Agriculture. Either there should be a considerable increase in the staff or there should be a complete reorganization on new lines. It was claimed that the correspondence of the Department is hopelessly behind, that the incidental business in connection with crop culture is not attended to in the manner requisite, and that the judges associated therewith do not have the time to discharge their duties. A memorial setting forth these suggestions and recommendations will be submitted to the Government.

Taxation.
Objection was also taken to the present system of taxation in so far as it requires the taking of the farmer's own declaration as a basis of taxation for his various classes of farm property. It was suggested and agreed to, that the Government be asked to publish the assessed values of all farm properties throughout the Province so that each farmer would have a check on his neighbor and be in a position to lodge a complaint where complaint may be deemed necessary. The general consensus of opinion had it that if the Government would allow a little publicity in this connection there would be a more equitable distribution of taxation with profit to the treasury.

The Food Board.
Discussion waxed hot on the modus operandi of the Canada Food Board which required the farmer to purchase flour substitutes at non-regulated prices. The Government is to be asked to provide land clearing and drain the machinery on easy terms. And complaint is to be lodged at the price charged for seed grain distributed by the Department of Agriculture. An amendment to the statute regarding live stock killed by straying on railway tracks is also a matter to be taken up by the Board with the Department.

Tribute to Mr. Scott.
Prior to the commencement of business this morning, fitting reference was made to the retirement of the late Deputy Minister of Agriculture, W. E. Scott, and sincere tribute paid to him for the manner in which he had carried out his duties during his term of office.

LIFTING OF BAN IS NOT CONTEMPLATED

Either in Vancouver or in Victoria, Says Provincial Board

Notwithstanding the report current that the City of Vancouver contemplated slipping from under the Spanish influenza ban during the present week, the Provincial Board of Health is not taking the same view.

In the first place the Board, under the Regulations proclaimed in effect by Order-in-Council, retains to itself the right of removal of the inhibitory order. In the second place long-distance telephone conversation with Dr. Underhill, the Terminal City's Medical Health Officer, this morning elicited the fact that while the ravages of the epidemic had lessened considerably there, the improvement was not sufficient to warrant the removal of existing restrictions. From Dr. Underhill's telephonic report it also appears that Vancouver, in common with Victoria, is paying for the excusable jubilation and joyous assemblies of the week end, since in both cities there has been a considerable recrudescence of disease since Monday last.

Just as soon as there is sufficient improvement in the general situation in both cities, and the respective Health Officers deem it desirable and safe to permit normal conditions, the Provincial Board will take the necessary official action. Until the responsible municipal official gives this assurance to the Provincial Department, however, the closure will remain in effect as a safeguard to the public health of all communities affected.

War Veterans' Association and the Comrades of the Great War waited upon the Hon. J. W. Delf Farris, Acting Premier and Attorney-General, this morning in order that certain matters of interest to the returned men might be laid before the members of the Provincial Cabinet.

Exception was taken by the delegation to the procedure followed by the Government in the appointment of W. H. McInnes, of Vancouver, to the important position of Civil Service Commissioner under the Provincial Civil Service Act. It was claimed by the returned men that it would have been in harmony with the Act had the Government made an endeavor to discover whether there were any British Columbia veterans possessing the necessary qualifications for the post now to be filled by Mr. McInnes.

Another subject to which the delegation directed the Cabinet's attention was that of the Amusement Tax; their request being that the Government agree to waive the odd cents per ticket in the case of all returned men. Mr. Farris explained that he was not in a position to give any answer since it was a matter requiring legislation. The Executive, he said, would take the request into advisement.

Member-elect Giolma drew the Acting-Premier's attention to the prevailing method of advising the crassement from the voting lists of absentee electors. He claimed that the somewhat abrupt language used in the printed form was calculated to occasion a distressing reminder to a widow who intended to receive the circular. Mr. Farris was in agreement with Mr. Giolma's view and promised a change in accordance with the latter's suggestion.

A "CIVIL" ANSWER.
Jones had not had his commission very long and was inclined to be a trifle patronizing. A special "lad" of his was asking the men what they were in "civil life."
"One day his eagle eye lighted on the face of a new recruit which seemed to be vaguely familiar to him. Strolling up to him in his most lordly manner, Second-Lieutenant Jones put his usual question to the recruit:
"How, and what were you in civil life, my good man?"
Great was his confusion when he received the following innocent reply, amidst a howl of laughter from the rest of the company:

A REVERIE

By Contributor.

I joined the people in their wild rejoicing
At the bright prospect of returning peace,
And this is what I saw:

I saw our Empire's flag, our Freedom's emblem,
Roused to the arms of the unfurling breeze,
And all the people cheered.

And as the men in navy blue and khaki
Marched proudly by, with firm and martial step,
I saw in them the emblem of our Empire's might.
Again the people cheered.

And women, too, passed in that great procession,
Women with fearless tread and smiling face,
I saw in these the emblem of our Empire's hope.

I saw, upon the edge of the great concourse,
A woman, whose attire of solemn black
Proclaimed the widow; and by her, standing,
Two little children, whose small hands of crepe
Informed the world that they were fatherless;
I saw in this sad group the emblem of our Empire's debt.

While others cheered, the woman's red lips trembled,
And underneath her veil there hid a tear.
The brave procession passed and distant cheering
Announced the progress of the grand display.
Oh, how the people cheered!

And as they cheered, the woman and her children,
Uncomforted and silent, stole away,
With aching hearts, and bitter, tender longing,
For him who lies asleep in Flanders.

Will it be always thus?
I take my pen and write just what I saw,
"Lost we forgot."

BOUGHT BONDS IN BED

Victory Loan Canvasser Effects a Queer, but Gratifying Sale.

In many cases it means hours of explanation, exhortation and patience before a Victory Loan canvasser can make a single sale. In others, the slightest energy is necessary in achieving this result. Indeed some purchasers simply "fall over themselves" to sign the applications.

The other day a salesman found a remarkable example of the general eagerness to invest. He knocked at the door of a house in one of the outlying districts, and having received no answer was about to leave. As he was descending the steps the voice of a woman asked him to come in. Entering, he found an elderly lady who, she explained, had been bedridden for years. Just at that time everyone else was out of the house. She was exceedingly anxious to subscribe, however, and before the canvasser left he had sold $500 worth of bonds.

RED CROSS PEARLS OF GREAT PRICE

British Society Receives 3,700
Gems for Making Into Famous Necklace

The latest Red Cross collection of pearls to which women from the world over have contributed their gems in memory of loved ones who have died on the field of honor, was finally closed in London on October 24, "Our Day," the date of the annual appeal in aid of the British Red Cross.

Nearly 2,700 pearls have been received, including contributions from the finest collections in the world, as well as solitary ones representing the most treasured possession of some less fortunate owners. Lady Langatock was but one of the many donors, giving two "As a memorial to her two brave sons who made the supreme sacrifice for their King and Country."

One of her sons, the Hon. S. C. Rolfe, was one of the most intrepid of the pioneer aviators of the Old Country.

The committee of jewelers who offered their services in the task of grading the pearls into necklaces have already commenced their labors. Probably eighteen or twenty necklaces will be made, the first of which, prepared with expert regard to the natural beauty rather than the size of the pearls, is intended to be as near a perfect necklace as possible.

One handsome diamond clasp has been given by Lady Norbury, and several other clasps of diamonds and more than fifty rubies for the making of clasps have been received. The method of disposing of the necklaces has still to be decided.

DEMANDS FOR LIQUOR

FOR "FLU" DROP OFF

Medical Opinion and Slackening of Epidemic the Cause

To an already published opinion of the epidemic expressed by the Vancouver Medical Association and the slackening up of the Spanish influenza epidemic may doubtless be attributed a noticeable drop in the daily business transacted at the Vancouver and Victoria Government liquor establishments.

On Monday, November 4, the Terminal City's prescription, business reached its zenith when in an ordinary business day the turnover passed the $5,000 mark. By Saturday of last week the average daily receipts for legal prescriptions, in the Terminal City had dropped to $1,000, and since then a general downward trend is recorded.

At the close of business yesterday receipts at the two stores for the first twelve days of the month had climbed up to nearly $10,000. Although this figure is in excess of that for the corresponding period in October, it must be remembered that the rush did not set in until practically half-way through last month, so that with the decreased demand is likely to bring the business of the two stores to within the record for October, there will be added revenue from the Nanaimo depot and from the Government agents at Prince Rupert, Cranbrook, Nelson and Quesnel, where moderate supplies of liquor were sent to facilitate disposal for the medical profession upon whose urgent recommendations the Government made the temporary arrangements for supply.

Prohibition Commissioner Findlay was in the city for a few hours on Monday and stated that so far all the demands of the medical profession had been met and that he had been able to safeguard supply by arranging for further small shipments of rum and imported whisky, which he anticipates would meet the requirements of the present epidemic.

BOULEVARD TO PARK AS A WAR MEMORIAL

Thomas Walker Suggests
Avenue to Mount Douglas
Along Shelbourne Street

Plans for a permanent memorial of the war which would entail a very small expense, and yet provide a practical asset to the scenic beauties of Victoria and district were outlined this morning to The Times by Thomas Walker, Mr. Walker has a plan for boulevarding a portion of Cook and Haultain Streets, to the junction of Shelbourne Street, and then carrying a magnificent avenue of trees along Victoria's finest country thoroughfare right up to Mount Douglas Park.

"The cost of maintenance for two years should," he says, "be provided by the committee who would manage the planting and initial organization of the scheme. Such committee should be composed of representatives of all public and service organizations in the district. The future administration of the scheme could well be left with the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee."

The Right Season.
"This is the right time of year to take trees from the city nursery at Beacon Hill. What I have in mind is that the selection should be made by the City Parks Committee, beginning and ending with maples at the city end and at the terminus in Mount Douglas. Other kinds of trees should be selected en route, according to suitability of soil." A double row of trees could be readily accommodated, and in order to have everything in order Mr. Walker suggested that a committee should be appointed to solicit subscriptions, have the holes dug, and the trees ready in position for some specific occasion. New Year's Day he mentions as a fitting date, observing that by apportioning the planting among a number of bodies, the whole of the undertaking could be accomplished in a single day. He suggests a simple name like "Mons" for the boulevard, with its historical significance as the beginning and end of British operations in Flanders, believing it would keep in eternal remembrance as the slender tree grew into leafy avenues, the part played by Canadians in France and Flanders.

Those who know the locality well appreciate that some links in the proposed road require paving, but the tree-planting in the boulevard strips could be done at once, pending paving improvements. The proposed avenue, however, is in use for the greater part of the route planned, and forms the portal to the beautiful Mount Douglas reserve.

LANE NOW ACTING AS FURS SUPERINTENDENT

Captain, Who Sold Polar Bear to Stefansson, Returns to Seattle.

Seattle, Nov. 13.—After an absence of two years, Capt. Louis L. Lane, for years known as one of the most intrepid and daring navigators of the Arctic, arrived this morning from California, getting a great welcome from his old-time friends on the waterfront. He is now the traveling superintendent of great fur interests which have posts all along the Pacific coast. Lane's last Arctic venture was made in 1915 and came to grief in Behring Sea. With John L. Borden, the Chicago millionaire, he organized an expedition for which the power schooner Great Bear was built especially. The vessel sailed from Seattle under auspicious conditions. Lane was commander. Borden acted as mate and other prominent men held minor berths. The crew was composed largely of University of Washington men and high school boys. After passing safely into Behring Sea waters, the ship went to destruction on one of the rocky islets in that body of water. All hands were saved and later returned to Seattle.

For years before that Lane operated an Arctic trading schooner out of Seattle, his last vessel in the frosty ocean being the famous power-schooner Polar Bear, which he sold to Stefansson in 1915. This vessel is now beached at St. Michael's, Alaska.

TWO MEN LOST WHEN RENFREW STRUCK CAME FROM VICTORIA

Louis Sanders and E. Barrett
Were Local Carpenters;
O'Hara Walked Coast Trail

More definite information concerning the wrecking of the Lummi Bay Packing Company's seine boat Renfrew at the entrance to Nitinat Lake with the loss of fifteen lives is hourly expected from Constable P. O'Hara by the Provincial Police.

Constable O'Hara, who was sent to Nitinat on the steamer Princess Maquinna to investigate the disaster, was unable to make a boat landing at Clousoe owing to the heavy sea running off the West Coast and therefore had to proceed to Banfield, the next point touched at by the Maquinna. After disembarking at Banfield, the Provincial constable set out to navigate on foot the coast trail from Barkley Sound to Nitinat, a distance of about twenty-eight miles.

He is expected to reach Nitinat this morning. As far as can be ascertained the fishing tender Bonilla, Capt. Fraser, is still inside the bar at the entrance to Nitinat Lake, having been unable to get away from the Lummi Bay cannery with the recovered bodies.

Sanders Lived Here.
Of those who lost their lives when the Renfrew was overturned in attempting to cross the dangerous sandbar, two are known to have been residents of Victoria. They have been identified as Louis Sanders, previously reported as a resident of Vancouver, and E. Barrett, of Phoenix Street.

Sanders and Barrett were well-known to F. Irvine, construction foreman at the Lummi Bay cannery, who was in the Times office to-day making enquiries about the disaster.

Irvine left Nitinat about two weeks ago and made his way on foot to Cowichan, a distance of about 23 miles, coming on to Victoria by train. The fishing season at Nitinat, says Irvine, closed on November 5. But for the fact that he decided at the last moment to make the trip overland he would have been aboard the Renfrew when she came to grief. On the cannery being closed at the beginning of the month, Irvine left Barrett in charge to clean up the work.

Chinese at Cannery.
There are between 250 and 300 Chinese still at the cannery and the construction foreman is of the opinion that it will be a difficult proposition to get them away, as the Orientals are most likely to turn down any suggestion to leave the cannery by the sea route.

Sanders, when in Victoria, used to make his home at the Atlantic Hotel. His wife died about a year ago and it is said he has a son on one of the boats plying out of this port.

Nels Ford was master of the Renfrew and it is not known whether he was among the survivors. There were 25 people on board the seine boat when she departed from the cannery, and as far as is known fifteen perished.

John Pearson, of Bellingham, one of the men lost, was in charge of the fish traps operated by the Lummi Bay Packing Co. at Nitinat. The Renfrew was a purse-seine boat of about 65 feet in length and equipped with a 100-horsepower Standard engine.

LYALL SHIPS ARE BOUGHT BY FRENCH

Six Vessels Built at North Vancouver Change Hands for $3,000,000

Seattle, Nov. 13.—One of the largest transactions ever made in ocean-going wooden ships on the Pacific Coast has just been completed by the shipping firm of Thorndyke & Trenholme.

It is announced that the firm has purchased for French interests six wooden motorships being built by the Lyall Shipbuilding Firm, of Vancouver, B. C. The consideration was given as about $3,000,000. The ships are of 3,000-ton deadweight capacity each.

Shipping firms here are also in receipt of definite advice from Italian, French and Belgian interests stating that conclusion of hostilities would find them in the market for all available wooden cargo steamers.

KENKON MARU AWAY.

MUST GET PERMIT FOR EMBARKATION ON NORTHERN ROUTE

New Regulation in Force Governing Travel to Foreign Countries Via United States

Under an order issued by the Secretary of State, Washington, effective November 11, 1918, all persons going from Canada to foreign destinations by way of United States seaports must procure permission for embarkation before leaving Canada.

Such permission may be arranged for either by executing a declaration and procuring a visa on passport before one of the American Consuls in Canada, or by making formal application before any of the United States immigration officers located in Canada upon forms furnished by the said officers.

In order to allow sufficient time for investigation, transmission of papers to Washington, applications should be filed either with the Consul or the immigration officer at least seven days prior to the date of proposed departure.

The State Department invites special attention of prospective travellers to the fact that unless they have obtained visa by an American Consul, the said Department must decide whether or not departure from an American port will be allowed, such decision being based upon the application submitted through the immigration officers. Passengers are accordingly warned not to proceed to the port of embarkation until they are in possession of either the Consular visa, or proper certificate from the U. S. Immigration authorities showing that permit for departure has been granted.

The foregoing applies to all persons not citizens of the United States, and it is effective regarding all destinations, including Mexico, U. S. Insular possessions, but not including Bermuda.

United States citizens seeking to proceed to foreign ports are required to have passports issued by the State Department, applications for same being obtainable from the various American Consuls.

MARY WILL OPERATE ON NORTHERN ROUTE

Fine Trans-Gulf Steamer to Replace Lost Princess Sophia in Skagway Service

It has been definitely decided by the C. P. R. that the steamship Princess Mary will take up the regular service between this port and Skagway in place of the lost steamer Princess Sophia. Intimation that this course would probably be adopted was first made in the Times recently.

The Princess Mary has made occasional trips to Alaska, and is considered the most useful boat for the Northern route. The new schedule has not yet been announced, but it is expected the usual ten-day service will be maintained.

The Princess Mary is being replaced on the night run to Vancouver by the Princess Alice, which yesterday discharged here the bodies of the local victims of the Princess Sophia wreck.

The date for the departure of the Princess Mary for Skagway is as yet indefinite, but within the next few days she will be thoroughly overhauled and prepared to enter the Northern service.

Until such time as the Princess Adelaide has been repaired the company will be compelled to maintain the boat night service possible with the Princess Alice, as the Princess Charlotte and Princess Victoria are operating on the triangular route.

The steamer Princess Royal is moored alongside the Belleville Street wharves, and it is likely that she will be pressed into service.

The transfer of the Princess Mary to the Skagway run will necessitate the Princess Alice will in all probability take over the Mary, while Capt. Hickey will transfer to the Alice.

MUCH DIFFICULTY IN GETTING CREWS FOR LIGHTHOUSE TENDERS

Estevan, After Some Delay,
May Sail Friday for Langara Island

Having been delayed in place for some days owing to lack of experienced men to round out her crew, the Dominion Lighthouse tender Estevan, Capt. Barnes, is expected to sail on Friday for Langara Island, the most northerly point of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Apart from her business of attending to aids to navigation en route, the Estevan will make transfers of lightkeepers at coast lighthouses, among them being Langara Island and Green Island, opposite Port Simpson.

Great difficulty has been experienced by the Marine Department in getting men to remain on the ships engaged in lighthouse work on this Coast. The lighthouse service offering in the shipbuilding and other industries ashore, it is claimed, has proved too tempting a bait for the men to remain afloat.

All the vessels operating in the lighthouse service out of this port have been in the same predicament, and have been delayed in putting to sea for want of a full complement.

The lighthouses, however, are pretty well stocked otherwise the men tending the lights and their families, might have been in a bad fix as a result of the labor situation.

A comparatively few days ago the crew of the Estevan was badly depleted, but a number of men with some experience in lighthouse work, have since been signed on, and officials of the department are hoping to get the lighthouse tender away to sea before the end of the week.

From here the Estevan will go to Vancouver, thence to Ladysmith for coal. After taking on bunker coal she will steam for the Queen Charlottes.

INCREASED NUMBER OF INFLUENZA CASES

Medical Health Officer Blames Recent Public Gatherings for Spread

With the increase in the number of influenza patients the demand for volunteers has also increased, and the City Medical Officer, Dr. Arthur G. Price, appeals to men and women for assistance in dealing with the nursing and care of those afflicted by the malady.

Thirty-six new cases were reported up to noon to-day as against thirty-eight for the same period yesterday. The total for yesterday was 198. Dr. Price states that the total for the first half of November will be considerably greater than for the same period in October.

The great public gatherings of the past few days are held responsible for the spread of the disease in Dr. Price's opinion, and unless the public chooses to make up its mind to observe reasonable precautions it is out of the question to expect any improvement in the situation which will warrant raising the ban.

Considerable activity has been evidenced in the past few days toward having the authorities lift the ban, at least in some cases, and a delegation was expected to have waited upon the City Council at its meeting last night in this connection, but it failed to make an appearance.

In common with all other branches of the public service the Fire Department has been hard hit by the epidemic and no less than eight men are at present off duty as a result. Fire Chief Davis had it, but is now able to be about, as is also the case with Secretary Murrant, who had a very bad attack of the disease.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

Salaries, Teaching Hours and Truncity Will Be Discussed To-night.

A meeting of the Board of School Trustees will be held in the Board rooms at 8 o'clock to-night, when several matters will be discussed relative to the present school situation.

As to the date when the ban resulting from the influenza epidemic will be lifted, thus permitting the schools to re-open, is arousing a good deal of conjecture on the part of all concerned. A committee of teachers is expected to appear before the Board to ask for the readjustment of certain portions of the salary schedule. The question of a change in the school hours will also be taken up, it is believed.

At the last meeting of the Board the question of appointing a transient officer was laid over, and this matter will be dealt with at to-night's meeting.

WORKING HARD FOR THE MILLION AT VETERANS' DUGOUT

Harmonious Quartette Expresses Feeling of Bond
Boosters

BUYER HAD MARKS AND RIBBON OFF IRON CROSS

At noon to-day the returned soldiers at the Dugout had carried their total to $319,650. They are still working hard to record the million. Yesterday $20,850 worth of bonds were turned into headquarters and twenty-eight bonds handed in this morning, and included in the above total amounted to $4,500.

Lady Barnard a Visitor.
Lady Barnard was a visitor to the Dugout, and was shown round the quarters by one of the guides. She finished her round in the "snipers' office," and Corpl. Dave Miller recorded her purchase of Victory Bonds.

Harmony Supreme.
Infected with the good news from France and the success of their efforts for the Victory Bond, the veterans are giving vent to their spirits through a harmonious quartette led by Sergt. Tipper. The boys gather on the front of the Dugout when business is slack and go through an extensive repertoire of French songs and the latest popular selections.

Had German Coinage.
One visitor to the Dugout this morning was the wife of a soldier waiting at casualty clearing depot in England, and the mother of a soldier son. After fighting in the trenches the father, who is over age, has been sent back from the line to be returned home, and the son was going straight into the front line. An enthusiastic letter from her son had caused the mother to be in the highest of spirits, and she enumerated a list of soldier boys she hoped to welcome home. The list was extensive, and she even had a tender spot in her heart for this man in khaki by the way she had followed their movements since leaving Canada. The enthusiastic letter from her son enclosed a number of German marks and a piece of ribbon of the Iron Cross. "He will have a tale to tell when he comes home," said the mother. "He says he wishes he could tell me all about the Iron Cross ribbon." She purchased bonds for herself and bonds for her son, and when the previous Victory Loan was raised, although she might well claim that she had made her sacrifice, she contributed liberally to the fighting dollars. Her excitement at the prospective return of her two soldiers was infectious.

Keep the Victory Loan Button.
"Take care of the Victory Loan button," the bond sellers are telling the buyers. "When the boys come swinging through the streets of Victoria they will have heard about the Victory Loans, and they will be more than interested to know who has stood behind them in the big fight. It will mean a lot to them to know that the people who could not go did their best at home."

Returned Men, 100 Per Cent.
A feature of the campaign that should carry weight by force of example is that the men who have fought for their country on the battlefields are not forgetting their comrades still in France or at any of the other theatres of war anxiously awaiting to be returned to their homes in Victoria after seeing the big fight end in a final victory. "Help them home now" is the stand they take, and knowing themselves what the comforts of domestic life and surroundings mean after the conditions necessarily in force under the strain of military activities whether in warfare or peace they mean to help to bring their comrades to Canada as speedily as possible. If funds will help, the veterans do not mean to allow their chums to spend Christmas in the shell-torn billets they would be forced to occupy out there, but by a glowing Canadian fire in their home surrounded by their families from which many have been separated so long. It is a much-debated question among the soldiers these days whether the men who have borne the brunt of battle will be retained as the essential army of occupation and for the necessary police duty. If funds will effect the relief of the warriors by freer troops they are certainly doing their share. One hundred per cent. of the discharged men of District Depot No. 11 are subscribers to the Victory Loan, and the Honor emblem has been proudly unfurled at the Headquarters at the Central Building.

Bonds on $1.10.
The wounded men at the Military Convalescent Hospitals in the district under the charge of Major Walter Barty have responded nobly to the appeal and the claim made by Sergt. King before the campaign opened that the wounded men themselves would, in comparison to the size of their incomes, be as large subscribers to the Victory Loan as any section of the community has been justified. The men in training at the Willows, among whom are many who have seen service in France have also come forward well out of their inadequate $1.10 per day to contribute to the Loan.

Breach of Promise.
Bond sellers at the Dugout are often called upon to perform a little outside canvassing when other arguments have failed and have obtained many recruits to the Silver Battalion almost regarded as hopeless. One employee of the Canadian Pacific Railway stood in the way of a 100 per cent. contribution from the lady workers and a veteran was sent down to try his persuasive eloquence. She "was busy," "no time to talk," "didn't want anyone chasing her to buy bonds," and so on, but the veteran was all respectful attention and had lots of time to wait for a few minutes respite in the work of the day. Ultimately the lady declared that she would call at the Dugout the following day and subscribe for a bond. "I have lots of witnesses," said the veteran as he prepared to leave, "and I'll sue for breach of promise if you change your mind." The lady recorded her signature the same afternoon, a day ahead of time.

The Widow's Sons.
Many of those purchasing bonds of the small denomination are paying full attention to a number of instances. It is money carefully saved from household expenses which is going towards the fund to make another such war impossible and to bring about a relief in army duties for the war-weary veterans whose eyes are now turned longingly to the country for which they have so nobly fought. A widow who had sons and a son-in-law overseas paid for her bond in cash with money which she said she had saved by strict economy in the cupboard against a rainy day, but "now the good news has come," she said, "I want my boys back as soon as they can get here." In most cases of this nature it is $50 or $100 carefully kept bills that are put down for a Victory Bond by people who have made the struggle to help and unwilling to assume the responsibility of instalments.

FIRST CONTINGENT SOLDIER DECORATED

Military Medal for Man Who
Highlanders

Lance-Corpl. G. A. Gravin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Gravin, 1337 Oak Bay Avenue, has recently been decorated with the Military Cross after a record of service dating back to the initial days of the war.
Lance-Corpl. Gravin was only nineteen years of age when war started, celebrating his twentieth birthday two months after he entered the trenches. He left Victoria with the first draft of the 50th Gordon Highlanders in August, 1914, and went to France to fight with the 16th Battalion in February of the following year. Through all the fighting that he has been engaged in since that time he has passed without even a slight wound.
He is a native son of Victoria, and has a brother, Walter Gravin, who left with the First Canadian Pioneer over three years ago. He, too, has a long record of service in the war zone, through which he has passed unscathed.

HOW TO FIGHT SPANISH INFLUENZA

Avoid crowds, coughs and colds, but fear neither germs nor Germans! Keep the system in good order, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air and practise cleanliness. Remember a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels are a protecting armor against disease. To keep the liver and bowels regular and to carry away the poisons within, it is best to take a vegetable pill every other day, made up of May-apple, aloes, jalap, and sugar-coated, to be had at most drug stores, known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. If there is a sudden onset of what appears like a hard cold, one should go to bed, wrap warm, take a hot mustard foot-bath and drink copiously of hot lemonade. If pain develops in head or back, ask the druggist for Anuric (anti-uric) tablets. These will flush the bladder and kidneys and carry off poisons matter. To control the pains and aches take one Anuric tablet every two hours, with frequent drinks of lemonade. The pneumonia appears in a most treacherous way, when the influenza victim is apparently recovering and anxious to leave his bed. In recovering from a bad attack of influenza or pneumonia the system should be built up with a herbal tonic, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made without alcohol from the roots and barks of American forest trees, or his "Ironie" (iron tonic) tablets, which can be obtained at most drug stores, or send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package. "Ironie" is just as good as Dr. Pierce's other medicines.

RAYMOND BREWSTER FELL IN ACTION AT MOMENT OF VICTORY

Son of Late Premier Dies for Country: Had Promising
Career

Local athletic circles and a host of friends and acquaintances will learn with intense regret of the death in action of Sergt. Raymond Brewster, the only son of the late Premier of British Columbia. More poignant will be the grief by reason of the fact that the young soldier laid down his life on the altar of sacrifice barely more than a week before the dawn of peace. Cabled advice reaching the immediate family this morning gave November 1 as the day he fell.

Father and Son.
With the death of young Brewster for he was only in his twenty-fourth year—both father and only son have given their lives in the Empire's cause. The late statesman's journey to the National Capital in February of the present year was his part in a mission very closely allied to the nation's war work, and it was during his return to Victoria that he was seized with an illness from which he never recovered. Relationship between father and son was always of the most affectionate kind and the young sergeant's career, prior to donning khaki and during his military life, was followed with true parental interest, never for one moment lessened by the cares of the difficult task from which the late Premier was so suddenly taken.

SERGEANT RAYMOND BREWSTER

Rapid Progress.
After many and repeated attempts to pass a medical board Raymond finally succeeded in measuring up to the exacting physical standard early in May of last year, and he marched away from this city with a detachment of the Divisional Ammunition Column, commanded by Lieut. James T. Fullerton. At Petawawa in July of the same year he passed his gun-laying tests at the head of his company and made his first advance with corporal's stripes, quickly afterwards adding the third.

Narrowly Escaped.
With one of the reinforcing drafts leaving Petawawa from time to time, Sergt. Brewster became attached to the 2nd Queen's Battery. And it was while the battery was quartered at Halifax in December last that the terrific devastating explosion occurred. Providence, however, intervened and young Brewster came through the awful experience very little the worse for minor hurts to nose and wrist.
In the open at the time, and almost before he had time to collect himself or to realize what had happened, the young artilleryman was struck by the broad side of a massive door which providentially shielded him from the fury of the concussion. How near he had been to death is best understood by the fact that the top side of his door was literally studded by hundreds of small pieces of plate hurled in all directions by the force of the explosion, and embedded in the stout woodwork as it sheltered the young Victorian.

Helped in Relief.
Dentistry was the profession of his choice and as soon as relief work became organized at Halifax young Brewster's medical knowledge was extremely opportune and for many days and nights he labored among the harrowing scenes bandaging and soothing wherever it was needed. So magnificent were the services rendered by him that newspaper dispatches singled him out for special mention, while his graphic description of the terrible days which followed will be remembered by readers of The Times.

Denied both father and only brother, the loss announced by the War Office this morning will be very keenly felt by the young sergeant's three sisters, Edna, Marjorie and Annie, the latter the youngest and the first named the eldest of the three. An uncle, Captain G. W. Brewster, of Vancouver, and J. H. Brewster, of the staff of The Seattle-Post Intelligencer, are the only relatives on this coast.

Good Athlete.
Born in this city and educated at the Public and High Schools, young Brewster made a name for himself in athletic circles and a number of medals were his rewards for sporting abilities. As one of the junior representatives in the crack Y. M. C. A. track team he was concerned in his fifteenth year to be easily the best short distance sprinter of his class. From school he commenced his business life and went to the North Pacific Dental College, Portland, for his training in dentistry. To don khaki and take up the good fight he left his profession; death on the battlefield ends a career which had great promise.

Mr. Hart's Tribute.
The Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, who of all the members of the Cabinet perhaps knew the late Premier and his son particularly well, was much distressed at the news received this morning. Closely associated with the family, Mr. Hart had marked the late Sergeant as a young man with a brilliant future, and his death within so short a distance of peace was all the more tragic.

BROTHERS DIVIDED BY DEATH TOWARDS CLOSE OF STRUGGLE

Gunner J. M. Pottinger Killed
Ten Days Before Fighting Ceased

Gunner James McNaughton Pottinger, who had celebrated his twenty-first birthday nine months ago in France, being born in Victoria, February 1, 1897, has been killed in action ten days before the great struggle in which he had been engaged for over twelve months was brought to a final victory. With the 60th Battery Canadian Field Artillery, he had been fighting side by side with his brother Claude C. Pottinger with whom he left for overseas.

Gunner Pottinger, who is the son of James Pottinger, foreman of the composing room of the Government Printing Office, and Mrs. Pottinger, 634 Battery Street, was educated at South Park School and the Victoria High School and had taken the first year of arts at the McGill University. He was attending the Normal School when he enlisted in the 5th Regiment in December, 1915, and afterwards joined the 15th Ammunition Column which comprised so many of the young men from Victoria who gave up their studies to take up arms. He left for Petawawa in May, 1916, and proceeded overseas in September, 1916. He was at Witley camp a year before he proceeded to France to join the battery commanded by the late Major Ringwood. He had shared in the big actions since he entered the war zone and had taken part in the final drives which have brought about the victory which he missed seeing by a few days.

PEACE ONLY MAKES VICTORY LOAN THE MORE NECESSARY

Situation Created by Peace
Necessitates Success of Bond Issue

CHAIRMAN CONFIDENT PEOPLE UNDERSTAND

The reasons for his confidence in the good effects of peace on the Victory Loan, and his certainty that the people of Canada will not slacken their efforts because hostilities at the front have ceased was explained this morning by R. F. Taylor, Island Chairman for the Loan. Mr. Taylor was certain that the Canadian people appreciated the necessity of the loan, and that its success was vital to the prosperity and welfare of the Dominion.

Returned Soldier Problem.
"In the first place," said Mr. Taylor, "one of the most important considerations in the mind of every right-thinking Canadian at present is the problem of the returned soldier."
Mr. Taylor went on to point out that one of the immediate problems facing the nation is the transportation of the troops from Europe, which can be effected only at enormous cost. The demobilization of the forces when they have returned will require further sums.

"In the meantime, however," Mr. Taylor observed, "the maintenance of the soldiers until peace has been firmly established would require an extraordinary expenditure, for it was not yet apparent how long the presence of the Allies at the scene of their recent triumph would be necessary."

Prosperity at Home.
"Again," said Mr. Taylor, "our industrial activities at home can be maintained only by the money raised through the Victory Loan."

It was obvious to all the world, continued Mr. Taylor, that the utmost efforts of every civilized nation would have to be directed towards the saving of Europe from starvation. According to the best statistics available, an appalling number of human beings would perish from hunger this winter, in spite of the combined assistance of the rest of the world. Canada would have to bear her share in these after-the-war problems, and it would be toward just such ends that the Victory Loan would be devoted.

Provide Employment.
The industrial integrity of the country must be maintained. Both for the comfort of the present population, and so that employment would be provided for soldiers on their return from the front.

"We must continue credits to Britain," said Mr. Taylor, "so that the Old Country may continue to buy food and other commodities in Canada. The Victory Loan is the only thing which will assure a continuance of this commercial intercourse, which is of the greatest advantage to both countries."

Rebuilding Europe.
Belgium and France, the chairman continued, would have to be re-established as soon as possible. "The task would be one of the most gigantic of its kind ever attempted, and would require the products and the co-operation of all the Allied countries. Canada could share in this work only so long as her industries were sustained by the Victory Loan. Thus, the success of the present bond issue would insure Canadians a rightful share of the orders for this great reconstruction."

The Reasons Why.
Summing up the reasons why the Victory Loan must be fully subscribed, Mr. Taylor said it was necessary first to bring the boys home; secondly, to maintain an army of occupation in Europe until peace has been firmly established; thirdly, to maintain Canadian industrial activities and to provide new employment for munition workers and returning soldiers; fourth to continue Canadian loans to Britain, so that the latter may be able to continue the purchase of Canadian food and fifth to enable Canadian workers to get their rightful share of orders for the rebuilding of Belgium and France. "I am confident that Canadians appreciate these facts," concluded Mr. Taylor, "and therefore I have no doubt about the results of the drive. People should think these facts over on the last three days during which they will be able to invest in their country at such profit to themselves."

"BOB" JAMIESON NEW MANAGER OF PANTAGES

Was Formerly Associated With the Victoria Theatre; Old-Time Resident

Victorians will be interested in the announcement that Robert Jamieson, better known as "Bob," an old-time resident of the city, has been appointed by Alexander Pantages as manager of the local Pantages Theatre, in succession to the late Frank Steinfield who was one of the earliest victims of Spanish influenza in this city, passing away early last month.

The new manager is well-known in the city. In taking up his new duties he will come equipped with a foreknowledge of local theatrical conditions gained during the period he ran the old Victoria Theatre, on Douglas Street, which has but recently been razed to make way for the extension of David Spence's Store. In addition to his theatrical venture, Mr. Jamieson was formerly proprietor of the Victoria Book and Stationery Company.

As the edict closing the theatres and places of public assembly went into effect within a few days of Mr. Steinfield's death, the public have not yet made the acquaintance of Mr. Jamieson in his managerial capacity. But he has not been idle in the interval, and has been making the necessary arrangements for the showing of a splendid bill of variety immediately the ban is lifted. Those who know him are confident that, under his management the theatre-going public will find a continuance of the courtesy, comfort and excellent entertainment which has long been associated with the local house.

WILL FIGURE IN THE GAMES HERE AGAIN

But Many Victoria Sportsmen Have Made Supreme Sacrifice

Sportsmen are looking forward with eager anticipation now to a revival of sports as in the days before the stars began to throw aside their athletic gear and store it away in a soldier's pack and leave the fields of sport for the grim game of war. With the greatest of all games now at a standstill they are debating the question, "How long before the boys get back?" and the vexed question of war-time championships is no longer a matter of mere speculation.

When the big league clubs hold their meetings in December they will be in a much better position to gauge the future than as if the war had continued late into the winter, baseball isn't dead. It's merely resting. You can't kill it."

McGraw expresses the belief that "Red Toney" will be the best pitcher in the National League when baseball resumes. Toney's development is only a question of physical training, he says. McGraw hopes his pitching staff will include Toney, Barnes, Bennett, Ferritt, Schupp and Saltee when the Giants again take the field.

War conditions could not have come to a head at a better time for the minor-league leagues. The last few years have been extremely hard on them. From a number close to fifty they have dwindled until there is less than ten left in the field. The leaders, however, have taken the same view all along, as expressed by John McGraw: "Baseball is merely sleeping. It can't be killed."

The annual convention of minor leagues in Peoria, Ill., will now have an entirely different aspect to the club owners. With the war going on and no end in sight the outlook was indeed bleak, but with fighting at an end, and normal conditions in prospect gloom will vanish, and optimism will be the cry.

American war taxes for the year ending June 30 yielded $700,000,000, excess profits bringing in almost $60,000,000.

HOW WAR NEWS WILL AFFECT PUCK CHASING

Pete Muldoon Discusses Results of Recent National Developments

Pete Muldoon, whom it has been mentioned may effect a change with Lester Patrick in the management of the Seattle hockey team this season, if Lester guides the destinies of the local players, has been discussing the effect of the news from France on the game.

The present situation in respect to the war helps hockey prospects amazingly," he says. "There is still a question as to what will be done with the Canadian troops in which are many of the players. It would seem, however, that more than had been figured would now be available. Seattle appears to be fortunate in that prospects are good for the return of several favorite players, including Jack Walker, Captain Foyston and 'Doc' Roberts. Their service is of such a nature that Seattle may hope for their release this winter to take up hockey again."

Mickey McKay brings word from the Britannia mine in British Columbia that "Doc" Roberts, one of the Seattle favorite players, has been reduced to a shadow of his former self taking care of miners and citizens in his district during the influenza.

It now looks as if Vancouver would have the services of Art Duncan, famous player, and a famous aviator with the Canadian forces. Duncan has been decorated three times for feats in the air.

LADY DOUGLAS WINNING OWNER ON ENGLISH TURF

London, Nov. 13.—Flat racing will be resumed in England next spring, the stewards of the Jockey Club having so far arranged for twenty-nine days' racing at Newmarket. Lady James Douglas easily leads the list of winning owners of English flat racing, having so far netted just on $75,000.

Next in order comes Solly Joel with $31,342; Lord Derby, $24,095; Major Waldorf Astor, $21,525; Lord Glanely, $21,815; A. W. Cox, $20,475; W. M. Canelet, $15,145; W. De Pledge, $13,850; J. Watson, $13,720; C. T. Garland, $12,550; Sir G. Noble, $11,260; and Lord Anglesey, $10,620.

GOLFERS EXPECT TO RESUME PRE-WAR GAMES

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Renewal of the western golf championships dropped during the period of the war may be ordered resumed by the Western Golf Association at its meeting in January. This is the expectation of President Charles F. Thompson, who said to-day that even if the National and Western championships were not held next season most of the sectional and state tournaments probably would be scheduled.

NEW FIXTURE LIST WHEN SOCCER RESUMES

Men of Lancaster Will Join in by Taking 'Willows' Game

A revised fixture list for the soccer league competition which will be resumed on Saturday has been announced. The Lancaster team, which has proved that it will be a hot contender for the title by the first game with the Fragments, will step into the fight for the trophy by taking the fixtures of the Willows, who appear to have dropped out of the competition. The revised schedule is as follows:

November 16—James Island vs. Victoria West. Fragments vs. Foundation. Garrison vs. Lancaster. Yarrow vs. Imperial Munition Board. Navy, a bye.

November 23—James Island vs. Yarrow. Victoria West vs. Fragments. Navy vs. Garrison. Lancaster vs. I. M. B. Foundation, a bye.

November 30—Lancaster vs. James Island. Fragments vs. Navy. Yarrow vs. Foundation. I. M. B. vs. Victoria West. Garrison, a bye.

December 7—James Island. Victoria West vs. Navy. Garrison vs. Yarrow. Foundation vs. Lancaster. Fragments, a bye.

December 14—Fragments vs. I. M. B. Navy vs. Foundation. Yarrow vs. Lancaster. Garrison vs. Victoria West. James Island, a bye.

May Play Midweek.

The Lancaster games which were on the schedule but which the sailors had not played up to the time the competition was temporarily suspended have to be provided for and the one between the Lancaster and the Fragments may possibly form the game for the gold medals which H. H. Brown has donated for a return game. The games referred to are Lancaster vs. Navy, Fragments vs. Lancaster, Lancaster vs. Victoria West, and Foundation vs. Lancaster. The matches may be played in midweek.

Brown Cup Draw. The draw for the first round of the H. H. Brown service cup resulted as follows: Navy vs. Garrison. Fragments vs. Lancaster, and has been set for December 4. The Vancouver sportsmen have been written to so that they will have their competition finished in time to play for the Canadian championship on Christmas Day. The final will be decided in Vancouver or Victoria on New Year's Day, the game going to the city that is successful in the Canadian championship which decides the team to meet the United States men in the final of the competition.

AD WOLGAST'S BROTHER ON SEATTLE FIGHT CARD

Seattle, Nov. 13.—The benefit boxing card, to be held next week here, will be an all-star affair, with no particular headline. This was the decision of Austin & Salt, who are staging the programme, after receiving wires from several sources yesterday.

Owing to the impossibility of getting any California fighters to box here, Caruso Dan and his partner have decided to put on ten bouts, and every one of them a battle.

Three contests have practically been made. Johnny Wolgast, a brother of the former champion, who, Eastern newspapers claim, will be as good as his famous brother, will meet 'Chet' Neff. George Thompson, the crack Camp Lewis bantam, who was matched with Pete Herman for the world's title a short time ago, will box the best boy available, and Frankie Murphy, Coast flyweight king, will meet Danny Weston, the Southern California champion.

In addition to these battles, Frankie Tucker will be matched with one of Camp Lewis' best millers; Hock will meet the best lightweight obtainable, and several other bouts will be staged.

Miners of Great Britain have raised £300,000 for motor ambulances, for sick and wounded soldiers.

WAR ON THE DUCKS OPENED IN EARNEST

But the Deer Are Having a Secure Season in Favor of Birds

The signing of the armistice in France does not bring peace for the ducks, pheasants and quail. They still have to hide from the rifle fire of the many sportsmen out for a good bag, and the ducks are beginning to provide good shooting. When the season opened the weather had not been sufficiently rough to drive the birds inland, and although it was late compared with other districts, it was a little too early for the island hunters. They are now, however, reported to be plentiful, and the cold weather in the North and the stormy conditions of the last two weeks have caused the birds to seek inland shelter. Those who have been out Sunday and during the week have been well repaid. Cowichan flats, Sidney Spit and Sooke Harbor have been the main hunting grounds, and are claimed to be about the best places on the island for the ambitious hunters. The fields and swamps are well filled since the recent rains, and the mallards are now not hard to get.

Pheasants and Quail Attract. The easier mark that the pheasants and quail are offering is proving to the advantage of the deer. The closed season last year, on account of the severe winter preceding it, has shown its effect this year, and big bags continue to be reported. The hunters are making the best of the thirteen days still left in which to show their skill, and have eased off in the hunt for deer, which they will probably resume with the keenness which marked the opening of the season as soon as the birds are prohibited game. The deer season lasts until December 15.

TENNIS PLAYERS CABLE BIG FUND TO ITALY

New York, Nov. 13.—Through the New York County Chapter of the American Red Cross, the United States Tennis Association has cabled $25,000 to Italy. This completes the campaign begun by the national association in 1917 to finance and man two ambulance sections for the United States Government.

Section funds have been established for the section which have been on foreign duty for several months, and the association has received official advice that forty machines, bearing the name-plates of its members who gave them, are now operating.

In commenting upon this final disposition of funds, Julian S. Myrick, vice-president, voiced the sincere appreciation on the part of the national association of the cordial assistance it had received from the Red Cross and the Government authorities, as well as the players and clubs who co-operated to make the undertaking a success.

CLABBY WAS FAVORITE WITH AUSTRALIAN FANS

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Snowy Baker, famed Australian sports promoter, who has been visiting here, is a pronounced booster for Jimmy Clabby, former pet of Milwaukee. Baker calls Clabby the biggest American favorite that ever stepped in an Australian ring. He also has a decided liking for Fritz Holland, of Spokane.

"These two were the craziest boxers that ever visited my country," remarked Baker. "They used more actual brainwork in twenty rounds than most boxers do in half a dozen contests of a similar length."

"If anything, Clabby was the cleverest of the two," might be understood by the fact of his boxing twenty rounds with Darcy on two occasions."

VALUE OF PIGEONS AS MESSENGERS AT VERDUN

As an instance of the value of pigeons as messengers the following story is told: At the battle of Verdun, a battalion commander was in an observation post, connected with the trenches by an underground telephone. In half an hour after the bombardment commenced the telephone line was severed and all means of communication were cut off save by three pigeons which the French officer had with him. At a time when help was most urgently needed the pigeons were released with messages, and within twenty minutes relief was afforded and because of the opportune delivery of the message the lives of many men were saved.

"HANK" GOWDY WILL BE THE IDOL OF THE FANS

When "Hank" Gowdy comes back from France safe and sound he will be the most powerful drawing card in baseball. Gowdy was the first major league player to enlist, and his popularity is unbounded. He is the property of the Boston Braves, under baseball law, and when the time comes to sign a new contract he can name his own terms. Gowdy's release would be cheap at $50,000. The Cleveland and White Sox paid that much money for Tris Speaker and Eddie Collins, respectively. Perhaps the "wealthy" owners of the Giants or Cubs might be willing to give more than $50,000 for the right to exploit Gowdy as a baseball star. A salary of $25,000, baseball men say, would not prove burdensome with Gowdy attracting record-breaking crowds all over the National League circuit.

ROWING COACH DECORATED.

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—Friends at the University of Pennsylvania and in the city of Major Vivian Nickalls of the British army, will be glad to learn the Italian Croce di Guerra has been awarded to the late rowing coach at the university for conspicuous heroism during the fighting on the Italian front.

Major Nickalls was well known as an oarsman at Oxford, England, and came to this country eight years ago as coach of the Detroit Boat Club. Two years later he was called to the University of Pennsylvania as the successor of Ellis Ward. In July, 1915, a year before his contract was ended with Penn., Nickalls resigned to answer his country's call for fighting men.

POTATO LORE.

Where did the potato come from? "Nobody seems to know precisely where the potato came from originally. It has been found, apparently indigenous, in many parts of the world. The late Professor Darwin, for instance, found it wild in the Chonos Archipelago. Sir W. J. Hooker found it common at Valparaiso."

In Peru and other parts of South America it appears to be at home, and it is a noteworthy fact that Professor Darwin should have noted it both in the humid forests of the Chonos Archipelago and among the Central Chilean mountains, where sometimes rain does not fall for six months.

The "Openwork." It is to the colonists whom Sir Walter Raleigh sent out in Elizabeth's reign that we are indebted for our potatoes. Herriot, who went out with these colonists, and who wrote an account of his travels, makes what may perhaps be regarded as the earliest mention of this vegetable. Under the heading of "Roots," he mentions what he calls the "openwork." "These roots," he says, "are round, some large as a walnut, others much larger. They grow on damp soils, many hanging together as if fixed on ropes. They are good food, either boiled or roasted."

At the beginning of the seventeenth century this root was planted as a curious exotic in the gardens of the nobility, but it was long ere it came into general use. In England prejudice against it was for a long time very strong.—Tit-Bits.

INFLUENZA STILL CLAIMING VICTIMS

Serious Situation at Kamloops and at Cranbrook Continues

From lengthy reports reaching the Provincial Board of Health this morning it would appear that there is very little abatement of the Spanish influenza throughout the Province.

From Terrace and the Prince George districts come the report of more than a hundred cases; happily all of a more or less mild nature, with no fatalities. At Queen Charlotte City there is a slight improvement and at Stewart three deaths have already been recorded.

Hazelton and New Hazelton, including the surrounding districts, more than one hundred and fifty cases, with five deaths, are reported. Smithers has sixty, one of which has proved fatal. At Telkwa there are five of a mild nature. Greenwood and Phoenix report eighty-five cases and four deaths to date.

With possibly the exception of Cranbrook, where the Hon. Dr. King is working night and day, the worst situation of the interior is at Kamloops. The Royal Inland Hospital has increased its normal capacity from eight to the treatment of 200 cases, while the second largest hotel and the Drift Hall have been pressed into the service.

Regular nurses and volunteer nurses have been taken ill and additional assistance has been found difficult to obtain. The medical profession declares that it has not yet reached its worst stage.

NUXATED IRON IS USED BY OVER 3000000 PEOPLE ANNUALLY IN THIS COUNTRY ALONE TO HELP BUILD UP THEIR HEALTH STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

Look around at the men and women you meet in a single day. One glance is enough to tell the ones with plenty of rich, red blood, strength and physical energy to back up their mental power and make them a success in whatever they undertake.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says that to help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in his experience which he has found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, rundown people in two weeks. It is conservatively estimated that three million people annually, and it has been used and endorsed by such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury and ex-Governor of Iowa; General John L. Clem (retired), the drummer boy of Shiloh, who was Sergeant in the U. S. Army when only 12 years of age; also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson, of the Court of Claims at Washington, and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere.

STAPLE INDUSTRIES IN LIGHT OF PEACE

Financial Post Issues Special
Edition on Post-Bellum
Prospects

SOME COMMENTS ON PROVINCIAL CONDITIONS

Good Outlook Forecasted for British Columbian Industries

An exceedingly interesting summary of industrial conditions in the face of after-war problems in Canada is published in a special issue of The Financial Post, just to hand in Victoria. The reference to the staple industries of British Columbia is of particular interest at this stage. Each of the series is written by a specialist.

Shipbuilding.
T. H. Penner, Assistant Editor of Marine Engineering, says of shipbuilding:

"It seems certain that for probably two years after the close of hostilities shipping will be scarce and freights high, which means that ships will be a profitable investment, but with a gradual return to normal conditions competition will once more become an ever-increasing factor. This shipbuilding will become a permanent industry, is sincerely to be hoped, and there are good reasons to believe that it will, though not on the scale that it is at present. It is unlikely that the wooden vessel will be built after the present abnormal demand for ships has passed, and the same may be said for the concrete hull. The establishment of steel plate mills in Canada will tend to bring down the price of material, and it is most probable that wage scales in the United Kingdom in the future will approximate nearer the Canadian scale both for ship workers and the men who operate the ships. The opening-up of new markets for Canadian products abroad will give reasonable assurance for employment of Canadian bottoms, and there is a large coastwise trade in Canada that should be open to Canadian ships only. The large fleet employed in carrying coal from Nova Scotia to the St. Lawrence, which has been practically all Norwegian owned, should certainly be in the hands of Canada. The United States allow no coastwise traffic to be carried on except by vessels under the United States flag, and this rule should be carried into effect by our own Government. Canada is not, and can hardly ever be a maritime country in the same sense that Great Britain is, but she should have a proportionate part in the carrying trade of the world to that of her commerce, and this should be achieved if possible without the aid of government subsidies, excepting in the initial stages, which has been given.

Helps All Trades.
"The building of a ship calls into use practically every trade known, and the shipbuilding industry should provide profitable employment for both capital and labor in ever-increasing proportions, as the population and wealth of the country grows. The industry has got a good start and it is up to the business ability and far-sightedness of Canadians to keep it going and make it stand on its own legs.

Lumbering.
An unstated authority deals with lumbering, and in the course of it he says:
"During 1917 there had been a moderate though restricted amount of exporting to meet the requirements in France and in England, but as the forestry services began to reach efficiency across the seas these shipments were restricted, both by the removal of the urgency of the demand and by the increased submarine menace.

"It was in the early spring of 1918 that the plans of the new railroad administration in the United States began to take definite shape, and the lines were laid to obviate any further adjustment and to minimize, so far as possible, the transportation difficulties that had been experienced in the principal part of 1917. As has been referred to, this was first manifested in controlling embargoes, and finally culminated in the imposition of the general embargo which was applied on September 16. While this embargo is gradually working itself out, it has undoubtedly provided an obstacle in

"BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN"

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did
For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."

—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice in regard to such ailments write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its forty years experience is at your service.

the channel, of trade and commerce, and has materially affected the purchase and movement of lumber into the United States which at present is our chief outlet.

Stocks Are Lighter.
Notwithstanding all of these restrictions, it is generally accepted that the consumption during 1918 has been fully relative to the supply, so that it can safely be said that stocks to-day at mill-points are if anything lighter than they were a year ago at this time. The logging operations for the over-season promise further restrictions and the logging costs will unquestionably be higher than for last winter.

"Glancing back and endeavoring to form conclusions for future guidance, therefore, the outstanding feature is the effect of the recent embargo. The basic significance of the whole matter from a Canadian point of view is that, knowing what we do of the amount of lumber and other materials that are being used by the United States, and knowing also the existing restrictions of supply, we can feel that there is a reasonable guarantee that every foot of lumber now existing, or that may be produced during the present operating season, will be wanted. It may be added that what the people of the United States have begun to do as consumers of our lumber products is only a starter compared to what they will be doing in the near future."

Steel Future in B.C.
A. R. Kennedy writes on the steel situation. Mr. Kennedy is Editor of Canadian Machinery, and in dealing with British Columbia, he states: "British Columbia is anxious to be included in the steel and iron world of the Dominion, and it must be admitted that in some respects she has made quite a bid for a place. The project of rolling steel, or in fact of producing steel on a successful commercial basis, is still in the list of futurities on the coast. Certain it is that a supply of steel, especially in the way of plate, would be a great advantage to the province's desire to become a shipbuilding centre. The building of wooden vessels is easy of accomplishment as B.C. has a great stock of timber to draw from. The putting together of steel vessels is another matter, and it is the steel ship that is looked for at present. In fact it is hard to see how British Columbia is going to be successful in putting out ships when the freight rates between the coast and the production points in the East are taken into consideration. On a ship that was about 4,200 tons dead-weight the freight charges alone were $80,000, and that is too big an item to carry as a handicap and complete successfully in normal times with yards in the more favored locations in the East.

Pulp and Paper.
W. A. Craik, Associate Editor, The Financial Post takes the pulp and paper situation. In the course of it he says:

"The year has been notable for several price increases based on the rising costs of manufacture. Chemical pulp has advanced steadily with the approach of each price-fixing period and, in the case of sulphite pulp, so uncertain is the outlook that manufacturers are no longer fixing a price for three months, but are only quoting for a month at a time. Sulphate pulp has been in heavy demand at strong prices. Mechanical pulp has not advanced to anything like the same extent but its climb to higher figures in the near future is inevitable. Newspaper paper has gone up from $50 a ton to $65 a ton. Book paper had an advance in the spring and another is forecast for the fall. Wrappings are now much higher in price than they were a year ago. In fact, all lines show substantial increases.

Increases Well Founded.
"The significant feature about these price increases is that they are founded on known facts regarding the cost of production. The market witnessed a flurry in prices in 1915-16, based on the fear of shortage of paper and a scramble by buyers to accumulate large stocks before further increases were enforced. At that time it was by no means unnatural that manufacturers, who had been doing business practically at a loss for years, should be quick to take advantage of the market's fears and get as much as they could for their output. As a matter of fact, prices went too high and there was a reaction, accelerated by the buyers who had overstocked and who now dropped out of the market. A low mark was reached last year on this temporary 'backward' movement, since when there has been a more logical advance in prices this time calculated on the basis of actual cost.

Few New Mills.
"The physical expansion of the industry in Canada is proceeding but slowly. At first deterred by the government's attitude, which was by no means conducive to encourage enter-

CROWN BRAND AND LILY WHITE CORN SYRUP

To help the sugar shortage use Crown Brand or Lily White Corn Syrup—delicious, wholesome and economical alternatives for Sugar in Cooking and Preserving. Corn is grown in North America, while sugar must be brought across the seas in ships which are vitally needed for war purposes. Use all the syrup made from corn you wish, while the Food Board is urging stringent economy in the use of Sugar.

Delicious for Making Desserts and on Cereals.

The Canada Food Board has issued a book of recipes and suggestions for using Corn Syrup. Write to the Food Board in Ottawa, for a copy, and in the meantime go to your grocer for a tin of LILY WHITE Corn Syrup, or CROWN BRAND Corn Syrup and try some of the following recipes.

APPLE SAUCE

8 apples 1 inch stick cinnamon
6 tablespoons Lily White Corn Syrup ½ cup water.

Wash, pare, core, and slice apples. Put into sauce pan with water, syrup and cinnamon. Cook over a medium flame until soft.

CAKE WITHOUT SUGAR

¼ cup shortening 1½ tablespoons baking powder
2 cups Lily White Corn Syrup ¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs 1 cup milk 3 cups flour.

Cream the shortening, add the syrup and the egg, and mix well. Add the milk. Sift the baking powder and flour together; add it slowly to the mixture and beat. Bake in a moderate oven, as a loaf or layer cake or small drop cakes. One-fourth cup of raisins added to the batter give more flavor and sweetness.

CHOCOLATE CORNSTARCH PUDDING

2 cups milk 2 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons Benson's Cornstarch 2 tablespoons Lily White Corn Syrup
¼ teaspoon salt 1 square chocolate
½ teaspoon vanilla.

Melt the chocolate over hot water. Scald 1½ cups of the milk; add the corn syrup. Mix sugar, salt, and cornstarch together; add ½ cup of cold milk to make a smooth mixture; add gradually to the scalded milk, and then add all the liquid to the melted chocolate, stirring constantly. Cook for 20 minutes in a double boiler, stirring until thickened; add vanilla; pour into moulds which have been dipped into cold water. Chill.

COCOANUT PUDDING

1 pint milk ½ cup Lily White Corn Syrup
4 teaspoons Benson's Cornstarch ¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla ½ cup coconut.

To cornstarch add ¼ cup of milk (cold) to make a smooth mixture. Scald remainder of the milk; add the cornstarch mixture and corn syrup, stirring constantly. Add the coconut and cook in a double boiler for 40 minutes. The cooking mixture should be stirred until it thickens. When done, add the vanilla and pour into moulds which have been dipped into cold water. Chill.

MARMALADE

1 grapefruit 8 cups water
1 orange 10 cups Lily White Corn Syrup
1 lemon

Cut fruit in thin slices and allow to stand in water for 36 hours or overnight. Separate seeds and soak them in part of the water. Cook fruit until tender and add Corn Syrup. Continue cooking until jelly is obtained.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Ready and cheaply made at home, but is better than all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save four-fifths of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap to make, but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (costs about 10¢), from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

making alterations—there might be a new mayor—but the place should be fixed, I don't care who the mayor is."

"I will not vote for anything that means expenditure at this time of year at all."

"Mr. Mayor, I refuse to vote on that until I see a sketch of it," said Alderman Fullerton.

Alderman Walker—"I am quite satisfied that it's a pretty little hole. Anybody can tell that. As soon as you come out of the Mayor's office you feel better; there's a different atmosphere altogether. I would be in favor of voting for it at once if I saw the sketch."

The aldermen, who had been taking the discussion somewhat seriously, looked at each other, their faces expanding in a broad grin which ended up in such loud laughter that the rest of Alderman Walker's remarks could not be heard.

Alderman Porter—"The suggestion has been made for a change of the heating system for the City Hall, and I think that until all these matters can be discussed together, this matter should stand over."

"I don't believe in these snap things. I want to see a sketch," said Alderman Fullerton.

"If Aldermen will come here next meeting even ready to oppose it intelligently, I will be satisfied that it should be laid over for a week," said Alderman Sargent.

This was done and Building Inspector Northcott will be asked to prepare a plan showing the details of the proposed changes in order that the aldermen may be fortified with suffi-

IMPORTATION OF TOYS INTO CANADA

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The War Trade Board announces that it is prepared to give favorable consideration to applications for licenses to import toys when the transportation of the goods is made by rail or where the attention of the conservation of ocean tonnage does not arise.

Chromos.
After a careful review of the Canadian situation in respect to prints and chromos, the War Trade Board has made a ruling that applications to import this class of goods will in future receive favorable consideration when coming from countries where the transportation of the goods is made by rail or where the question of the conservation of ocean tonnage does not arise. The pictures in question are not to include photographs, enlargements, or framed pictures if the frames form a substantial portion of the value of the picture.

Wilhelm's New Joke Is a Statement He Did Not Run Away

London, Nov. 12.—A published statement, which Wilhelm Hohenzollern, the former German Kaiser, wished to be regarded as his reason for going to Holland, says that the journey was not a flight, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to The Daily Telegraph. His departure from Germany was actuated by a desire to facilitate the work of the new Government, ridding it of any embarrassment his presence in Germany might cause, such as an attempt to make him the centre of a royal agitation, he says.

Canadian Aviator First Britisher to Reach Constantinople

Mudros, Island of Lemnos, Undated. Nine British aeroplanes landed in Asia, a suburb of Constantinople, two days after the signing of the Turkish armistice (October 31). The first Allied officer to reach European Turkey was Flight Lieutenant Henry Wiser, a Canadian and a graduate of Yale in 1917.

The Turks gave the airmen an enthusiastic reception, declaring they were thankful that Turkey had been cleared of Germans, who had fled to the Rumanian and Russian ports on the Black Sea.

The Turks said they were eagerly awaiting the arrival of the Allied fleet which had been concentrated at Mudros. An Allied army and navy entry probably will be made simultaneously at the Dardanelles. No military occupation of Constantinople at present is probable unless disorder demands that such a course be taken.

A commission composed of British naval and military officers is inspecting the forts of the Dardanelles, under escort of a son of Tewfik Pasha, the Grand Vizier, with a view to occupation.

French and British torpedo boats entered the Dardanelles November 3, according to a dispatch from Paris on November 11.

British Aviators Created New Record as Fighting Ended

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The British battle-front aviators established another record during the last week of hostilities, according to a cablegram received from the British Ministry of Information by the Director of Public Information here. In one day they destroyed sixty-seven German machines and drove down fifteen out of control, suffering a loss of only eighteen planes. No Allied or enemy plane was shot down in any other day in achieving anything approaching this.

CHILEAN MINISTRY GIVES RESIGNATION

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 12.—The Chilean ministry resigned yesterday.

IN REVOLUTIONISTS' HANDS

The above is a picture of the dreadnought Nassau, which was a unit of the German fleet but which now is reported in the hands of the revolutionists. She was completed in October, 1909, and carries twelve 11-inch guns, her length being 473 feet. Her sister ship, the dreadnought Posen, also is in the hands of the revolutionists, as are also the dreadnoughts Ostfriesland and Oldenburg, completed in 1911 and 1912 respectively.

BRITISH WILL BUILD HUNDREDS OF SHIPS
Bonar Law Says War Plants Will Be Used for Task

London, Nov. 12.—In moving a vote of credit for £700,000,000 in the House of Commons to-day Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that everything available in connection with the manufacture of instrumentalities of war would be turned to the production of merchant ships, so that there probably would be an increased expenditure under this head.

The estimate of expenditure for the 292 days to October 19 had been £1,411,000,000, but the actual disbursements amounted to £1,251,000,000. There was a reduction in loans to the Allies and Dominions of £276,000, as compared with the estimate. The increase in army expenditures amounted to £33,500,000, while the disbursements for the navy decreased £15,500,000 because of the fact that expectations as to the building of merchant ships had not been realized. There was a reduction of £30,000,000 on munitions as compared with the estimate, owing to the over-ambitious programme.

REINSURANCE OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Plan is to Allow Men to Convert War Policies Into Life Policies

Washington, Nov. 12.—Preparations by the Government of the United States for reinsuring the lives of soldiers and sailors on their return have been hastened by the signing of the armistice. Although regulations have not yet been fully drafted, it is certain that each of the 4,250,000 men in the military and naval services now holding voluntary Government insurance will be permitted within five years after peace is declared to convert it without further medical examination into ordinary life insurance, and the cost is expected to be at least one-fourth less than similar forms offered by private agencies. Private companies would not write insurance on many wounded men.

FALL OF HAPSBURGS A NOTABLE EVENT

Paris, Nov. 12.—(Havas)—In the abdication of Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary, the Paris press sees an event which may lead to important consequences, as his action marks the final rupture in the dynastic bond which has held together for centuries peoples having little mutual sympathy.

Lack of News.

Paris, Nov. 12.—The lack of German news reaching here by the way of Switzerland indicates some interruption in the usual channels of information. Zurich has confirmed reports that the frontier is closed to travelers arriving from Germany.

It is reported that Friedrich Ebert, the new German Chancellor, has given a place in his Cabinet to George Ledebour, the Social-Democrat leader, but this report is given under reserve.

Information received here is to the effect that the revolution is proceeding calmly and methodically.

Bolsheviki in Minority.
Copenhagen, Nov. 12.—Although the Bolshevik group of the German Independent Socialist Party is recognized as a separate organization, it is still in a decided minority and the power rests in the hands of the majority Socialists and non-Bolshevik Independents, says a Berlin dispatch to The Berlingske Tidende. The dispatch adds that the soldiers' representatives at the meeting on Sunday of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council energetically opposed the plans of the Bolshevik element.

After the formation of the new Cabinet, Barth, the Spartacist member, announced his resignation and induced Deputies Haase and Dittmann, Independent Socialists, to follow his action. Later Haase and Dittmann withdrew their resignations.

GRAIN MARKET HOLDS STRONG TO-DAY

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)
Chicago, Nov. 12.—The conservative element in the grain trade who have feared a radical decline in value right away. They favor a moderate recession for the best interests of the trade of the world, a return to the normal is looked upon as being a long time. There is so much in the situation that few care to take a decided stand on either side of the market.

NEW YORK STOCKS IRREGULAR TO-DAY

(By Burdick Bros. & Brett, Ltd.)
New York, Nov. 12.—The market here was called upon to absorb a large volume of professional selling, and it cannot be said that the bearish element gained any advantage, although they did succeed in bringing about a certain amount of selling by holders who were impressed by fears of what might happen to the securities of companies who have been depending on war business for success. The period of readjustment will of course cause many cross currents. Business, however, has by no means stopped. Informations come from Washington that the price fixing committee have determined in effect until the beginning of next year at least the price fixed by the Government on the many products and materials entering war manufacture.

DEMAND FOR TANLAC BREAKS ALL RECORDS

FAME OF TANLAC HAS SPREAD OVER ENTIRE CONTINENT

Famous Medicine Now Sold From Coast to Coast and Gulf to Great Lakes

Never before perhaps in all history has the demand for a proprietary medicine ever approached the wonderful record that is now being made by Tanlac, the celebrated medicine which has been accomplishing such remarkable results in all parts of the country.

The old illustration of the pebbles dropped into the pool best describes the marvelous growth of the ever-increasing demand, and its fame has swept over the entire nation like a great tidal wave.

From coast to coast and from the Gulf to the Great Lakes, Tanlac is known and honored. Millions have taken it and have pronounced it the greatest medicine ever given to the people, and the only explanation of Tanlac's triumph in the medical world is Tanlac's true worth. Back of Tanlac's triumph in the drug stores is Tanlac's triumph in the homes. It is the people's medicine and the people themselves made Tanlac what it is.

No matter where you go, Tanlac is a household word, and it is unquestionably the most widely-talked-of medicine in the world to-day. One person invariably tells another about a medicine that helps them, and in this way scores of thousands have heard of Tanlac as a direct result of one bottle in a single home.

WILLIS EXPLAINS ENORMOUS SALES

"It's What Neighbors Say That Counts," Says International Distributor

"These enormous sales," says G. F. Willis, international distributor of Tanlac, "mean but one thing, and that is—Tanolac is well advertised. It is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It's what the neighbors say that counts. One bottle is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that community after that first bottle produces results; and that's right where Tanlac scores. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than willing to tell others of the medicine that helps them. It's something they couldn't keep to themselves if they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with neighbors and want to help them is one of the strongest as well as one of the biggest things in human nature. Tanlac is producing these results," he continued, "and that is why nothing on earth can keep it out of the homes of the people. It is not only the most-talked-of medicine in the world to-day, but, in my opinion, it is the best and most efficient. And, although prominent officials and leaders throughout the country have endorsed Tanlac, its greatest prestige is firmly based on the unqualified endorsement of the masses of the people."

"Not a day nor a week passes that does not bring hundreds of statements from the people concerning the good this medicine is doing and rectifying the circumstances of remarkable cases that would convince the most skeptical. These are alone sufficient for Tanlac, but the figures are more. The figures contained in these enormous orders speak eloquently and convincingly of the great good this medicine is doing."

MEMPHIS FIRM SELLS FIVE CARS IN A MONTH

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 15, 1918. Mr. G. F. Willis, International Distributor Tanlac, 1101 Fourth National Bank Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir,—It would be a very hard matter for us to write a letter expressing just our feelings and experience in regard to Tanlac. We know that the day of miracles is past, and we all know that there are no unfathomable mysteries in the drug business, and yet this Tanlac proposition smacks of both. For one firm to be able to sell at the rate of one carload every two weeks and for this record to keep up until now we have sold more than 275,000 bottles is just the least you can say, phenomenal and bewildering. April was our twelfth month, and we sold five carloads during that month alone.

Tanolac is giving entire satisfaction to our trade and is a constant and regular repeater from the same sources, and our customers write us that their demands are persistent in the way of repeat orders as well as from new users.

The uniform courtesy and consideration—the splendid business policy displayed by you with us as your wholesale distributor and through us your agents, has been everything that we could ask, and we wish you continued success and hope that you will realize on your wishes to in every way stabilize and permanently perfect the popularity and continued sale of Tanlac.

Yours very truly,
THE HESSIG-ELLIS DRUG CO.
(Signed) R. R. Ellis, President.

Ten Million Bottles Sold and Distributed in Three Years' Time

SUCCESS ACHIEVED IS UNPRECEDENTED

Fifteen Trainloads Were Sold Through Atlanta Office in Two Years

More like a tale from the Arabian Nights of old, than a record of a modern business reads the story of the marvelous growth and development of Tanlac, which has been the sensation of the drug trade throughout America.

The first bottle of Tanlac to reach the public was sold just a little over three years ago in the thriving little city of Lexington, Ky., where 20,000 bottles of medicine were sold in only a few months' time. Since that time there have been sold throughout the United States and Canada approximately 10,000,000 bottles, and a romance which has no parallel in the modern business world was begun.

The instant and phenomenal success which Tanlac won in Lexington has been duplicated in practically every large city, small town, village and hamlet in North America, Hawaii, Alaska, Cuba, Porto Rico and other American possessions have clamored for Tanlac.

Some idea of the enormous demand for Tanlac throughout the Pacific Coast states can be formed by the reports of the Owl Drug Company, one of the largest drug firms in the country, who operate retail stores in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego. This firm is selling at retail, direct to the people, 20,000 bottles of Tanlac a month, and what is true of the Owl Drug Company is also true of druggists throughout the entire West.

Atlanta Office Sold 15 Trainloads.

The fact that 223 carloads, approximately fifteen trainloads, of Tanlac have been sold through the Atlanta office alone in the past two years, seems almost incredible, but these are actual figures and such is the record established by this wonderful medicine.

As a matter of fact, the greatest drug firms of the country have voluntarily come forward and stated, in plain, cold figures the record-breaking sales everywhere, and the following letters from well-known wholesale and retail drug firms give ample evidence of the true worth and widespread popularity of Tanlac.

SELL 101,600 BOTTLES IN SIX MONTHS' TIME

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 15, 1918. Mr. G. F. Willis, International Distributor of Tanlac, Fourth National Bank Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

My Dear Mr. Willis,—Replying to your inquiry, we are glad to make statement of our exact experience with Tanlac.

When you called on us the latter part of 1917 we could not comprehend the extent of business Tanlac was having as reported to us from other states. He had, however, heard something of Tanlac in the Southern States near us, and, believing in the statements, as made by you, we agreed to co-operate and act as your agent for our immediate territory, which covers one-quarter of the State of Texas, though a very sparsely settled portion. When you spoke of our buying Tanlac in carload lots I confess we were a little bit skeptical.

Although your campaign did not begin until February, 1917, from that time until this good day, Tanlac has been the greatest patent medicine seller we have ever handled or had anything to do with. In six months' time we bought and distributed eight carloads.

We sell these goods not cash, fifteen days, and so far we have not lost a single dollar on a Tanlac account. The dealer who secures the agency for Tanlac is very fortunate indeed. Very respectfully,

Maxwell-Clark Drug Co.

HUGE ORDERS FOR TANLAC ARE GIVEN

What is probably the largest single order ever given for a proprietary medicine was one for thirty-five (35) carloads of Tanlac received a few days ago for immediate delivery by the Cooper Medicine Company from G. F. Willis, International distributor, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.

Ask the manager of the Cooper Medicine Company at Dayton, O., and he will tell you that there are 1960 dozen of Tanlac to the carload, or 12,720 bottles. This means, therefore, that 235,200 bottles will be shipped to the West within the next few weeks to supply the tremendous demand. This is in addition to numerous single carload orders received from the same source during the last thirty days.

TANLAC TO BE SOLD OVER ENTIRE PROVINCE.

In only a few weeks' time Tanlac will be placed on sale in practically every large city, town, village and hamlet in the Province of British Columbia.

A number of agencies already have been established in a very limited time, but it is desired by the manufacturers that the distribution be made more complete and far-reaching.

Druggists and dealers who are interested should write or telegraph G. F. Willis, Fourth National Bank Building, Atlanta, Ga.

TEN CARLOADS ORDERED BY BIG WESTERN FIRMS

Largest Order Ever Given for a Single Medicine by Western Drug Firms

Ten carloads of Tanlac are moving from the laboratories at Dayton, O., towards the Pacific Coast, in response to orders given by the leading drug firms of Salt Lake City, Ogden, Spokane, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

These tremendous orders, the largest ever placed in the West and on the Pacific Coast for a proprietary medicine, are to supply the phenomenal demand for Tanlac in the West and the Pacific Coast States. The immensity of such orders can only be realized when it is understood that each car of Tanlac contains 1000 dozen, or 12,000 bottles, the entire ten carloads representing 127,200 bottles of this celebrated medicine.

In speaking of the above orders and of the phenomenal growth and development of the Tanlac industry, Mr. E. C. Harris, special representative of G. F. Willis, the international distributor, said:

"Having heard through absolutely reliable sources of the remarkable and rapidly-growing demand for Tanlac throughout the United States and Canada, the leading drug firms of the West and Pacific Coast did not hesitate for a moment to accept the agencies and to assure us of their hearty co-operation in making Tanlac just as successful in the far West as it is in the South, East and Middle West."

"It is nothing unusual," continued Mr. Harris, "for dealers to order a carload of Tanlac and have orders for every bottle of it before the car arrives. In fact, many of the Tanlac jobbers and distributors invariably order the second and third cars before the car en route has time to reach them."

When asked for further information regarding his plans, Mr. Harris said: "We have long regarded Vancouver as one of the best distributing points in the Northwest, and arrangements are now being made to establish a branch office and distributing depot. I shall remain there long enough to print the introduction of Tanlac throughout British Columbia, and from what I can see and hear of your enterprising, hustling city, I do not believe it will be a great while before Tanlac will be selling equally as well in Victoria as in other cities of the country."

Mr. Harris declined to state positively that an exclusive Vancouver agency had been awarded, but intimating that an interesting announcement along this line might be expected tomorrow.

60,624 BOTTLES SOLD IN SEATTLE

Jobber Makes Phenomenal Sales Record on Tanlac in Seven Months

The following letter which has just been received from the Stewart-Holmes Drug Company, one of the largest wholesale drug firms in the Pacific Coast states, gives ample evidence of the rapidly growing and widespread popularity of Tanlac in that section:

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 15, 1918. Mr. G. F. Willis, International Distributor of Tanlac, Fourth National Bank Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

We are glad to inform you that since we accepted the wholesale distributing agency for Tanlac in this territory, March 14, 1918, we have sold and distributed 48,624 bottles of the medicine and with the car that is now en route to us from the factory, we have purchased over 60,624 bottles of your preparation.

It will no doubt be of interest to you to know that the widespread popularity of Tanlac has been a big surprise to us, even in spite of the fact that we have been in the wholesale drug business in this territory for so many years. Tanlac now holds the front rank of all our proprietaries, and is the undisputed leader with our trade.

Our salesmen report that Tanlac agents are experiencing a gratifying and constantly increasing demand for Tanlac.

With best wishes for your continued success, we remain,
Very truly yours,
Stewart-Holmes Drug Co.

LARGEST IN HISTORY OF THEIR BUSINESS

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 15, 1918. Mr. G. F. Willis, International Distributor Tanlac, 1101 Fourth National Bank Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir,—It gives us pleasure to state that the wholesale distributing agency of Tanlac for this territory, secured from you, has proved very satisfactory to us.

Our books show that during the year we have bought and disposed of over 75 cars, 180,000 bottles of Tanlac, in this immediate territory, thereby setting a record as the largest sale by us in a given time of any proprietary remedy in the history of our business.

These sales have been made with no effort on our part and without complaint on the part of our patrons and sub-agencies.

With best wishes for your continued success, we remain yours very truly,
SPURLOCK-NEAL COMPANY.
(Signed) C. S. Martin,
Vice-President and Gen. Mgr.

WHAT'S TO BE DONE WITH AGED INDIGENT?

Question Troubles City Council and Certain Changes Suggested

The question as to who is responsible for the care of the aged indigents in the district was the source of a good deal of argument in the City Council meeting last night, when the application of an old man seventy-six years of age for admission to the Aged Men's Home was read.

Alderman Porter called attention to the fact that applicants were only eligible for admission to the institution who had lived continuously for fifteen years in the city. The applicant in question, it was claimed, had lived in Saanich for five years and for three years a friend had kept him at his place at Shawanigan, so that it was quite safe to say that the man had not been a continuous resident here for fifteen years.

"I have been here since 1882, and I know that the man has been here for nearly twenty-five years. While it is true that he may have been kept at Shawanigan for three years and lived in Saanich for a time, he is really a citizen of Victoria," said Alderman Fullerton.

"Fifteen years is too long a time of residence to require in a case like this," said Alderman Andros. "If the man is in want, let us put him in the Home. If he likes to keep himself, let us refer it back to the committee for further report as suggested."

"I agree with Alderman Andros," said Alderman Sargent.

"This is a matter for the Provincial Government to deal with," remarked Alderman Sangster.

The committee was requested further to investigate the case and report back to the Council.

A LITTLE STRATEGY GOES A LONG WAY

Canvasser's "Hunch" Acted Upon, Gave Extraordinary Results

How a joke ended in a big sale of Victory Bonds is told by J. E. Andrews and Sergt. Lawrence, one of the local canvassers. During the transaction the two bond sellers got the surprise of their lives and incidentally made their biggest sale of the day.

It was with faint hope of selling any Bonds that the canvassers approached an old teamster in one of the downtown sections of the city where carters are accustomed to congregate. He was a cheerful looking old fellow, but, to judge by appearances, he was having a hard time to make ends meet.

"Can't afford no bonds," he said decidedly.

"Well," replied one of the canvassers, "we can give you ten months to pay for it. Come now, surely you can afford a $50 bond."

The old man was obstinate. He could not afford it. Business was poor. The cost of hay for his "teebie and ancient" horse was excessively high.

A Little Strategy.

Having a "hunch" that the old chap really had some money, perhaps hidden away in a sock, Mr. Andrews, as a last resort, attempted a little strategy, not expecting much success.

"Oh, come on," he said, "let me make you out a $100 bond. Here's the application form all ready. I'll put your name here. Shall it be $100?" he asked, almost certain that the old man would stick by his first determination.

"Oh," said the old man with a chuckle, "you might as well make it $1,000 while you're at it!"

"All right, I will," exclaimed the canvasser, keeping up the "game" and thinking that he would destroy the application form when the man refused to sign it. He therefore put another nugget after the 100.

"Now sign here," the salesman said, when he had signed the various details. The old man took the fountain pen offered him and signed his name.

"Er, ah, how do you want to pay?" asked the canvasser weakly, "in four or ten months?"

"No, sir, I'll take $1,000 worth of them bonds, and I'll pay cash. If you want the money I'll give it to you now!"

"Shake," said the salesman. "No we don't want cash just now, but the country can use it nicely in a few weeks. Good afternoon!"

REVIEW SETTLEMENT

Saanich School Board to Discuss Per Capita Payment for High School Tuition.

At the meeting of the Saanich School Board, due this evening one of the principal matters to be discussed will be the alteration of the Stewart-McGregor settlement, fixing the basis of the payment by the Saanich Council to the City Council for the payment per capita of the tuition of Saanich pupils in the City High School.

That basis was $50 per head, which was a generous treatment of the district municipality on the facts as they then stood. Now the amendment proposes to fix the charge at the exact cost. The last City Board financial statement set it at $72.52 per head, which shows that the city is entitled to a review of the situation at the present time. The amount in question represents a considerable sum per annum.

Human Fly Escapes Death.—Thousands of spectators in Jersey City, N. J., on Monday watched Robert Simpson, soldier in the United States Army Signal Corps, climb a five-story building and to the top of a flag pole on the roof, 125 feet from the ground, lose his hold, plunge to the street and escape death. He landed on the cloth top of a moving automobile. The driver sped with him to a hospital, where it was found he was injured, but not too seriously to jump from his bed and salute an officer who came to ascertain his condition. Simpson climbed the building as a Liberty Day stunt.

SAVE FOOD

If you cut down your food by one-fifth, how can you still obtain the same amount of nourishment as before? The problem looks impossible, but it is not so in fact, for if you get more nourishment from the food you do eat you will solve it.

Take a concrete instance. If there are 5 units of nourishment in bread when you buy it, you expect to get 5 units when you eat it. As a matter of fact you do not get that at all, because a good deal of the nourishment is not absorbed by the body. To take a rough and ready simile. If you put coal on a fire in the evening, and leave the fire overnight, you will find that a good deal of the coal is unburnt in the morning when the fire is out. This is much what happens to food in the body, and the "unburnt" food is wasted.

There is a simple way to reduce this loss, a way tested and approved by the highest scientific authorities. It is to take Bovril.

Bovril has been proved by independent scientific authorities to possess power to assimilate other foods.

Help to save the Empire's food and still keep yourself well fed, by taking a cup of Bovril as soup before meals, or by using a little Bovril in your cooking.

Canada Food Board, Licence No. 13-442.

On the Matter of Saving 25 Cents

Stop to think how fine is the line between saving and loss, when applied to buying!

Take those articles with which you are most familiar—stockings, shoes, groceries: The "Saving" of a few cents may mean the loss of dollars—in length of wear or benefit derived.

In other words, it's Quality determines cost. Discrimination is the factor that decides where the line should be drawn.

But one sure way exists to buy maximum value: insist on goods that bear a reputable trade name—shun the article that travels "incognito"—or masks its imperfections by its outer resemblance to a genuinely good product.

In electrical equipment there is a standard name to look for—BENJAMIN—a name known and recognised in electrical circles like the sterling mark on silver. Surely, it would be folly, for the sake of saving 25 cents on an article, to take without question something "just as good" or "the same as" the particular line that is accepted by all electrical authorities as standard, when in the inferior article lurks actual danger to life and property. Cheap imitations made in foreign factories pass no recognized inspection whatever for safety, and therefore, quite apart from their inferior quality, can you afford to take chances of danger from the use of inferior articles?

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure—look for the name when you buy.

MORE FIRMS STEP INTO FRONT LINE OF COMPETITION

Honor Emblems Now Decorate Majority of Local Stores

CHAIRMAN EXPLAINS OBJECTS OF CONTEST

By Saturday night there will be few local stores or offices which are not displaying a Victory Loan Honor Emblem showing the patriotism of the employees. As the campaign draws to a close, the wave of Victory enthusiasm grows, and every hour sees fresh additions to the 100 per cent list. During the first few days of the competition five or six firms would claim emblems in one day; and when ten qualified for the distinction the officials considered that they had accomplished wonders. Now they are not satisfied unless some thirty concerns demand emblems, and yesterday about fifty companies achieved that honor. The smaller stores, following the lead of the larger firms, are now getting into the 100 per cent line, and junior emblems are being awarded right and left. The emblems are by no means confined to any one section of the city. Indeed, the competition has spread to every out-of-the-way little candy store in the suburbs, also a large number of Chinese firms have won emblems.

Record Patriotism.

"The object of the Emblem Committee," said George Bushby, Chairman of that body, "is not to show up those who do not qualify for the Honor Roll, but to record the patriotic spirit of those who refuse to allow their names to be excluded from such honorable company."

The entire canvass is now being concentrated upon swelling the Honor Roll, and as there is a competition arranged for this week between the twelve canvassing teams, the public may as well howl to the inevitable and subscribe cheerfully, for—our bond hunters are loath to take "no" for an answer unless a very exceptional excuse is offered as the basis of refusal.

"It is remarkable how the heads of many firms are taking a keen interest in the Honor Emblem campaign, and many an employee is now the happy possessor of a Victory Bond through the liberality and patriotism of his employer. This meritorious action should be universal among employers."

THOUGHT CANADA AN UNCERTAIN SECURITY

She Had Lost Her Money by Investment, and She Liked Cash Best

An elderly lady who thinks that Canada is a very uncertain security, has been discomfited within Greater Victoria by a Victory Loan canvasser. F. G. Purser, a returned soldier, was the salesman who made this remarkable discovery. He called upon the lady, and commenced to explain the various advantages of Victory Bonds. Acting on his experience of salesman-ship, he particularly emphasized the safety of the investment.

"Nothing is safe, young man," said the lady. "My husband, who was a British officer in the Crimean War, invested $17,000 in an automobile company for me. After I had been enjoying a comfortable income for several years the concern collapsed, and I was left almost penniless."

"No investment is safe!"

"Yes," but objected the canvasser, "the Dominion of Canada is not an automobile company."

"It doesn't matter," persisted the lady, "no investment is safe. Canada will probably collapse. I would rather have my money in cash," she declared, producing a five dollar bill to illustrate her contention.

"But," said the salesman, "if Canada collapsed, that bill you have in your hand would be useless, worth nothing. Victory Bonds are as safe as anything in the world."

The lady was taken quite aback by his statement. "You come back here to-morrow," she said, "and I will talk Bonds to you. I'm just beginning to wonder if I oughtn't to change my money into gold, or something."

"Let that something be Victory Bonds," admonished the canvasser.

"We'll see to-morrow," replied the lady with her ideas of finance considerably altered.
